Daily Mirror

SPECIAL DERBY NUMBER.

No. 180.

Registered at the G. P. O. as a Newspaper.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1904.

One Halfpenny.

TO-DAY IS DERBY DAY-HORSES AND JOCKEYS IN THE GREAT RACE.

OTHER PHOTOGRAPHS AND PICTURES OF THE DERBY ARE ON PAGES 8, 9, AND 13.

MORNINGTON CANNON. Who is riding Gouvernant, the French favourite.—(Photograph by Sherborn.)

HENRY THE FIRST.
Who shares with St. Amant and John o'
Gaunt the position of English favourite.

O. MADDEN. Who is riding Henry the First.—(Photograph by Sherborn.)

Gouvernant, the French horse, owned by M. E. Blanc, favourite for to-day's great race. Only once has the Derby been won by a French horse.

. K. CANNON.
Who is riding St. Amant, the favourite
English horse...(Photograph by Sherborn.)

The finish of last year's Derby

ST. AMANT, he popular English horse for the Derby.

Tattenham Corner. It is in rounding Tattenham Corner that the Derby is lost or won, for once past there is a straight run to the winning-post. Rounding the corner is the crucial test of a jockey's powers.

BIRTHS.

BURNE.—On May 25, at 3. Upper Montague-street, Russell square, W.C., the wife of Godfrey Lionel Burne, of Paris, square, W.C., the wife of deciring of a son.
DAVIS.—On the 29th inst., at 69 Balfour-road, N., the wife of Thomas Davis, jun. of a son of the property of the MARRIAGES.

ARTER STONE On My 24, at the Church of St. Helen, Abingdon, by the Bisher of Reading, Thomas and the Beat of the St. American and Margaret Theresa, third daughter of the Rev. E. D. Stone.

DEATHS.

OOLS On May 27, 1004, Agents the beloved wife of contribution of which the state of the contribution of colley, in the 20th mat. at 10, Beanfort-gardens, NEWTON-On the 20th mat. at 10, Beanfort-gardens, Newton, of Elwedn Hall, Suffok, in the 91st year.

PERSONAL

DEAREST—Appoint any station, Gist, 1 till 2.

VESTA.—Why don't write! Your silence kill me.

ERNEET WEIGHT—Good ances to GIS PARKER,

FROM STATE STATE STATE STATE STATE STATE STATE

Wishing to Speak, Your slawps.

ANNUAL REGISTER.—Wanted, volumes of the "Annual-Register." State date and prince—Box 1501. "Daily state State PUBLIC NOTICE.

PRELIMINARY NOTICE.

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS.

THE SALVATION ARMY. ROYAL ALBERT HALL. FRIDAY, June 24, at 7 p.m.

INTERNATIONAL HALL, STRAND (Specially erected), SATURDAY, June 25, to MONDAY, July 4.

CRYSTAL PALACE, TUESDAY, July 5

For full particulars see public announcements, or apply also for tickets) to Congress Secretary, 101, Queen Victoria-dreat, F.C.

SHIPPING, TOURS, Etc.

NORWAY, SWEDEN, and RUSSIA.
WILSON LINE. First-class ROYAL MAIL and PASSENGER STEAMERS. PASSENGER STEAMERS:
Saloos and Sieeping Accommodation amidabips,
ELEVEN DEPARTURES WEEKLY.
SPECIAL HOLIDAY TOURS from LONDON and HULL,
Apply to THOS. WILSON, SONS, and CO. Ltd., Hull; Gellatly and Co., 51, Pall Mall; Cook's, Ludgate-circus; or Bott and Co., 1, East India-resume. EC.

AMUSEMENTS.

HAYMARKET.
TO-DAY at 3 and 9.
Preceded at 2.20 and 8.20 by THE WIDOW WOOS.
MATINEE EVERY WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY, 2.20.
HIS MAJESTYS THEATRE.
TO-DAY at 2.15 and
EVERY EVENING this week, at 8.
THE LAST OF THE DANDIES,
THE L

MONDAY NEXT, for 5 Nights and 2 Mati THE MERRY WIVES OF WINDSOR. Mr. TREE and Miss ELLEN TERRY.

IMPERIAL THEATRE. MR. LEWIS WALLER.
TO-DAY at 5 and EVERY EVENING at 9.
MATINEE WEDWESDAYS and SATUEDAYS at 3.
MISS ELIZABETH'S PERIONER.
Preceded at 4.15 by A QUEEN'S MISSINGER.

Precided to STATE STREET STREE

Box Office 10 to 10.

ST. JAMES'S. MR. CEORGE ALEXANDER
Will appear To-DAY at 3 and 9, 3n
SATTEDAY TO MODAY (54th and 55th times.)
By Frederick Fonn and Richard Proc.
At 3.3m Proc. Miss Hida Treelyan by permission of Mr. Frank Curzoni in her original park.
MATIREE EVERY WEXNESDAY and SATURDAY, 2.30.

THE ONYORD—GRAND VARIETY CO.

THE CARK and HAMIJTON, From Lamore, Maggie

Adh, EKNESS SHAND, Bord and Gillam, SPINA

MAN Ga. Brooks, LAURIES JUVENILES, ASPHUR

RIGHY and Oo. in "A Cystal Palace Bank Holiday,

MAN Ga. Box Office upon 11, to 5, BAYFRIDAY

MAN GA. Box Office upon 12, to 5, BAYFRIDAY

MAN GA. Box Office upon 12, to 5, BAYFRIDAY

MANTINEES at 215, Manuago: 26, JAHFRI GLEBERS (1988)

Admission, 1s.: Season Tickets, 16s.: 5d.

ITALIAN EXHIBITION, FARLYS COURT.

From 10 mon till 1. Avriller 1. Avri and all the Exquisite Features of the Theory of the Control of Control

GLANCE. TO-DAY'S NEWS

Our special weather forecast for to-day is: Very changeable, with variable breezes; thunder and rain at times, fine intervals.

Lighting-up time: 9.9 p.m. Sea passages will be smooth generally, but misty in places.

THE WAR.

Dalny, which was created by the Russians at a cost of £5,000,000, has been occupied by the Japanese, who have thus further strengthened their hold on the Liao-tung Peninsula. Much damage was done in the-town by Russians and bandits before the Japanese entered, and several steamers were sunk. The Japanese have captured the naval guns taken from Port Arthur by the Russians to defend Nanshan.—(Page 3.)

General Kuropatkin, it is still asserted, has left Liao-yang with a large army, and is marching to the relief of Port Arthur. In view, however, of the advance of General Kuroki's forces, and their reported occupation of the Motien-ling pass, 45 miles from Liao-yang, it is not probable that the Russian commander has left his base.—(Page 3.)

Parliament re-assembled after the Whitsun re-cess, and heard a statement from Mr. Brodrick respecting Tibet. He said the Government had taken steps to furnish the mission with adequate reinforcements. Up till the end of March the cost of the mission had been £380,000. Mr. Winston Churchill occupied a seat on the Benches during the sitting.—(Page 3.)

Their Majesties the King and Queen paid a visit to the Temple Flower Show, making a lengthy inspection of the exhibits. This year's show is remarkable for an exceptionally fine display of roses and clematis.—(Page 4.)

As a result of the menacing attitude of bandits, British residents outside Tangier have been requested to come inside the town. Some have already done so. The British—Admiral from Gibraltar is conferring with the Minister on the measures necessary to secure the liberation of Mr. Varley, the captured resident.—(Page 3.)

In an interim report issued yesterday the Royal Commission on Tuberculous declares that the presence of tuberculous bacilli in the milk or flesh of the cow may be a cause of consumption in man.—(Page 4.)

No less a sum than £672 was paid for an orchid at a City auction sale yesterday. Another rare plant changed hands at £589 10s.—(Page 4.)

Immense interest is being taken in to-day Derby. The whole of the fancied horses were give long gallops yesterday, and in no case were expectations upset. Many think the race a very opeone. Unsettled weather is probable.—(Page 3.)

Though there has been an increase in the number of London vabries on strike, vehicles are not very scarce. It is possible the privileged men will join the strikers to-day. At a meeting of masters it was decided to refuse the men's demands. Owners are confident of success in the dispute.—(Page 4.).

LAW AND CRIME:

Examined in connection with his bankruptcy at Lincoln yesterday, Mr. George Marshall, exsolicitor to the Duke of Newcastle, insisted that he was robbed of the £12,000 at the Hotel Metropole. He admitted that his firm had been hopelessly insolvent for years past, and said he considered himself a fool not to have gone into the accounts.—(Page 5.)

Police notices have been issued offering a reward of £50 for information concerning Marie Marthaler, maid to Miss Nellie Seymour, who is alleged to have stolen jewellery valued at £3,000 belonging to her mistress.—(Page 6.)

At Walton Gaol, Liverpool, William Kirwan, a sailor, and Pong Lun, a Chinese storekeeper, were executed, the first for the murder of his sister-in-law, and the latter for having killed a Chinese companion in the city.—(Page 5.)

In the Divorce Court Sir F. Jeune commenced the hearing of a petition of Mrs. Rose E. Adams who alleges cruelty and misconduct on the part of her husband. The allegations are denied by re spondent, who makes counter charges.—(Page 5.)

Cardiff police have in custody a Spanish sailor, who is alleged to have fatally stabbed a compatriot in a street quarrel.—(Page 6.)

Wretched weather marked the opening day of the Epsom Meeting. The King arrived in time to witness the first race, and remained during the afternoon. Cicero, who was made favourite, secured the Woodoote Stakes. The Epsom Town Plate was won by Otherwise.—(Page 14.)

Mr. S. F. Edge considers that England has but a small chance in the coming race for the Gordon-Bennett Cup. He does not agree with the view of the racing committee of the Automobile Club that cars which won in the Isle of Man trials must race in the final.—(Page 4.)

Small Advertisements

If sent by bost, must be accompanied by Pontal Orders crossed BARCLA, Y & CO, (stamps "Daily Mirror" advertisers can have replies to their advertisements sent free of charge to the "Daily Mirror" Offices, a box department having been opened for that purpose. If replies are to be forwarded, sufficient stamps to cover postage must be sent with the advertisement.

DAILY BARGAINS.

NOTICE. — When replying to advertisements addressed to the "Daily Mirror" Office no remittance should be enclosed in the first instance.

A BABY'S Complete Outfit, 70 articles, 21s.; except value.—Delta, 35, Bonfield rd, Lewisham. A COSTUME to measure, 42s.—Marsh, Tailors, 47, Whit comb-st, Piccadilly-circus.

BABY'S COMPLETE OUTFIT; 68 articles; 21s.; worth double; handsome Robe, etc.; approval—Call or write Mrs. Scott, 251, Uxbridge-rd, Shepherd's Bush.

BEATALL Bargains.—Parcels, white cambric or white fancy Brocades; 1s. 3d.—Beatall, Rushden. BLOUSES made, ladies' own material, from 2s.; most DIOUSES.—500 to be given away to readers of the Tobily Mirror.—While for purishing the many three properties of the National Properties of the National Properties of the National Properties and Procks.—"Ze-linen," durable, light, Cafe Irish tabric in many art shades and patterns; makababi: only 54d, yard; samples, post free.—Hatton c, Boom 61, Lorue, Irichard.

COSTUMES! Hats! Dust Coats!-Smart, cheap,-Dress Agency, First Floor, 15, Air-st, Regent-st. FOR Cloaks, Marabouts, Etc.—Best British Mole Furs, direct from the catch; only 4d. each.—Daiby, Pixmore, Baldock, Herts.

FUR Neckiet for summer wear, light and soft; rich real Russian sable hair, only 5s. 6d.; approval.—Mand, 6, Grafton-sq. Clapham.

CENT. S BUIT to measure, 25a; Ladies' Tailor-made Co-ference, 25a; Ladies' Tailor-made Co-tumes, 15a; Lamanure, 55a; 6d; payments by instalments of desirated by Tailors, 20; Prince Wales' red, Norwich, HARTS.—Special Sale of Model Riding Habits, Ride HARTS.—Special Sale of Model Riding Habits, Ride Generi Costs, Breaches, Raimproof and Linen Riding Gar-ments for the Colonies, at moderate prices.—I, Guterbock and Sons, Ladies' Tailors, 8; Manoverst, Regent-st, Lon-don, W.

HOME Work Co-sperative Society, Showroom now open, Sock Whiteomber Whiteomber House, Showroom now open, Sock Whiteomber Whiteomber House, Showroom now open, Sock Whiteomber Whiteomber House Showroom now open, Sock Whiteomber House Showroom now open, Sock Showroom Now Now North House Showroom now open, Sock Showroom now open, Showroom

DAILY BARGAINS.

L ADIES' Tailor-made Skirts; extraordinary value; 5s. 6d. 12s. 6d.; beautiful cloths, correct fit, presented styles; we have sold hundreds; new catalogue, patterns, measurement forms sent post free; don't delay.—Rawding, Retford, Notts.

OFTRICH Feather Boas, 5s. 9d. each; manufacturer's bankruptcy stock; colours: natural, French grey, black and white; also stock Marabout Ostrich Stoles, 80m, clark brown and natural colours, 11s. 9d.; approval—Emanuel, Bankruptcy Association, 3. (Luphamed.

PETTICOATS, Corsets, Costumes, Blouses, fashionable dresses; parcels purchased, -35, Lorn-td, Brixton. REAL IRISH TWEED SUITS, 40s.; splendid fabric; ex-cellent cut and fit; measurements from chart or ole cut; trousers, 9s. 11d.; seasonable patterns post free.—Hut ton's, Room 81, Larne, Ireland.

SLOANE DRESS AGENCY, 166, Sloane-street.-A large selection of smart Day and Evening Gowns.

UNDERLINEN, 9s. Parcel.—8, chemises, knickers, petti coats; 3 beautiful night-dresses, 10s. 6d.; approval.—Mrs. Scott, 251, Uxbridge-rd, Shepherd's Bush.

UnderLinen; 10s. 6d. parcel; 3 chemises, 3 knickers 2 petticoats, 3 lovely night-dresses, 10s. 6d.—Eva., 89, Union-rd, Clapham.

"WHAT Will be Worn? "-Moore's famous Dress Line "Ardar Sid clean and cool, charming colours: The "Ardar Sid clean", The "Ardar Sid clean", The "Ardar Sid clean", The "Ardar Sid clean", The Translation of the Coloration, Post free. "Art, North-parade, Be Miscollaneous.

A BARGAIN.—Sheffield table Cutlery; 5-guinea service
12 table, 12 dessert knives, pair carvers and steel Crayford ivory balanced handles; unsolled accept 10s, 9d, approval—Mr. H., 68, Stockwell-rd, E.W.

DECIDED Bargain.—Strong Striped Hemp Hearthrugs reversible, fringed, 72in. by 65in.; 2 for 3s., carriaged.—B. and G. T. Martin, Forest-row.

atter, bellemerked, mounted very handler, canned accept 16s &c., approval—Me. B., 31. Chaphan-ed.

FURNITURE.—Gendleman must sell beautiful drawingforces to bedroom suite, complete, 11 fds., private—18, fds., ingine focus bedroom suite, complete, 11 fds., private—18, fds., ingine focus bedroom suite, complete, 11 fds., private—18, fds., indifull complete of the fact of th zzling white light; practically un-free; pat. 9,622.—Crossleys, 174a.

DAILY BARGAINS.

PRESENTATION £8 8s. silver-plated Queen Anne Toa and Coffee Service; abony handles to tea and coffee; gold-gilt lined sugar and cream; finest quality; unused; sacrifice, 52s. 6d.; approval.—Mrs. Wilson, 29, Holland-st, S.W.

READING Cases (useful and handsome); will hold six copies of the Daily Mirror; Is, each, post free is, 3d.—Postal orders to 2, Carmelite-st, London, E.C. REAL Hair Tails; Fringes, 2s. 6d.; practical Wig and Transformation maker; Illustrated Catalogue free.— Drew, 394, Essex-rd, Islington.

Drew, 394, Essex-rd, Islington.

PRONS and 'Fork: wedding gift; Al quality: silverD plated on nickel silver; handsome service; 12 each table and dessert Spoons and Forks, also Teaspoons (60 pieces); list price £8 19a, 6d., accept 35a.; half quantity, 18a, approval—Mrs. Roberts. 2, Glayhants-rd, 8.W.

9D. WILL buy 3s. 6d. worth of artistic Postcards; sent free.—Publisher, 6, Grafton-sq. Clapham. 3/10 - DINNER CRUET, full size, with four large only X: 10d - Maxters Rec.

6/- - ELECTRO-PLATED TEAPOT, new embossed de-design, very handsomely finished; bargain, only 6s.—

Masters, Rye.

10/- - LADY'S NECKLET, gold, full size, complete with gold heart pendant; a bargain, 10s., post free.

-Masters, 15, Hope Stores, Rye.

DAVIS, PANNINGOKER, GREAT CLEARANCE SALE.

D'FULL LIST POST FREE ON APPLICATION,

(6) Lody 18-cars (Indicased Keyles Watch,

National Section of Control o

A. DAVIS. Pawhbroker, 524, High-rd, Chawker, Lomon.

O. DAVIS. Pawhbroker, 524, High-rd, Chawker, Lomon.

GREAT CLEAR CONTROL OF THE PARTY OF THE PA

Albert, Seal stached, garanteed 15 years' wear, worth & 22 %. Three logether, scartice 93. 60. Approval before payment.

LADY'S HANDSOME 18-CARAT GOLD-7/9. CABED KEYLESS WATCH, Jewelled movement, and tingkeeper, 10 years' warranty-off filled, elegant West Band design. Two together, scarifice, 75. 240, worth £2 %. Approval before mayment.

19/6. LESS WATCH, iswelfed 10 gritles, richly entranced case, splandid timekeeper, 10 years' warranty, week's HANDSOME £5 %. SEEVICE SHIFFIELD AND AND STATES OF THE STATES OF THE val willingly,

10/6. Inarved DiAMOND and EMBERALD BOUBLET
HALE-HOOP RING: large instrous stones; sacrides, 10s.
6d. approval willingly.
0. DAVIS, Favmbroker, 26, DENMARK-HILL, LONDON.

GARDENING.

DEDDING Plents; Early hardy Chrysanthamums, splen-did varieties; Dahlias, good tubers; Salvia Patens, fow blue perennial, 12, 2a.; White Paris Marquerites, 15, 14, 2d.; Asters. Tohaccos, Scabius, Stocks, Zinnias, 3d 18 3d.; free—Vicar. Eginton, Leighton Huzzack.

3d.; free.—Vicar. Egginton. Leighton Buzzard. CARDEN LIFE. 'is the largoist and best paper for the neutral and timely hate on bedding out; practical articles an erbenas, roses, delphiniums, begonias, and hardy ann assistance, respectively. The control of the control of the control particles of the control of the control of the control year, and the control of the control of the control of the particles of the control of 28 EXQUISITE Irish Ferns in variety; bouldir or rockery; 1s. 2d., 4 lovely by plants, is. 2d., free.—Watson, Terrace, Bantry, tork.

100 STRONG Plants, 2s., carriage paid; choice variety asters, stocks, Margaret carnations, zinnias, balsyms, etc.—Springfield Nursery Company, Fleet, R.S.O.

THE IMPERIAL SUPPLY STORES.

DATRONISED BY THE NOBILITY. EVERYTHING OF THE VERY BEST QUALITY ONLY.

onus of 25 superb Geraniums.

[APANESE HANGING FERN MONKEYS; only 2s. 6d.

JAPANESE Chrysanthenums; autumn rooted, stopped outsings from Prize stock; 12 distinct named varieties; packed in damp moss, 18, 34. DEERNNIAL SUPEROWERS; elegant, long-stemmed Margaerite bloscome; thrite anywhere, improving yearly; 12 windered clumps, 1, 214. Mod-Livized TESHMONIALS.

IMPERIAL SUPPLY STORES, 4-12, Crampton-st, Newington Butts, London.

Marketing By Post.
Situations Wanted.
Situations Wanted.
Situations Wanted.
Situations Vacant.
Houses and Properties.
Businesses for Sale and Wanted.
Holiday Apartments To Let and Wanted.
Board-Residence and Apartments.
Partnerships and Financial.
Educational.
Musical Instruments.
Pots, Live Stock, and Vehicles.
Miscollansous.

Appear on pages 6, 12, and 15.

DERBY DAY.

Will It Witness a French Victory?

GOUVERNANT'S CHANCE.

King and People at the Great Classic Race.

THE ROAD TO EPSOM.

Derby Day comes round this year with a French favourite in the field-Gouvernant, son of an Eng-lish size, Flying Fox, and a French mother, Gouvernante; and born and bred in France. gives an additional charm to to-day's Derby, whetting the enthusiasm of every true sportsman

Not for many years has Derby Day so deeply and widely stirred the public. Even the war and and widely stirred the public. Even the war and the mysterious cab strike must be content with a second and third "place" in the public fancy. Gouvernant, John o' Gaunt, and St. Amant took exercise at Epsom 'resterday morning. The French favourite is said to have galloped "great guns," having Cannon on his back. The jockey dismounted "all smiles."

dismounted "all smites."

John o' Gaunt, the son of Isinglass, won much admiration in his gallop of a mile and a half.

Similarly Mr. L. de Rothschild's horse, St. Amant, travelled over the ground in a promising style, in spiring confidence in his fanciers. But it is left that yesterday's rain may upset calculations.

THE PRUDENT TRAMP.

By cockcrow this morning the annual pilgrimage to Epsom Downs began. There are always hundreds of Londoners who tramp to the Derby; deeming it prudent to save the railway fare for other uses that may arise on the course, under the insulance of persuasive bookmakers and humanitarian tipsters, who challenge anybody to disprove their prophetic power.

Should their luck be good these early-morning pedestrians may be able to ride back to town-Others who took train to Epsom may find it necessary to walk home in the cool of the evening, muttering maledictions on their luck. Such vicisatiudes constitute the fascinations of the Turk.

There is a malady called Derby debility. Thousands of young men and old were seized with it yesterday; and thousands more will be stricken by it to-day, when it usually comes to a head. They will regretfully acquaint the office and the firm with their total inability to be in their accustomed place.

firm with the constraints of the form of files.

It is believed that the only cure for this form of illness is a change of air, and the only healing tonic is found in the air that blows across Epsom Downs. The coincidence is a remarkable one, as thousands could testify.

OUR SPORTING MONARCH

OUR SPORTING MONARCH.

'It is the intention of the King and the Queen to witness to-day's great race for the blue riband of the English Turf. The presence of their Majesties will delight the multitude, who regard King Edward's love of sport as a great quality in a British ruder—a bond of sympathy between the monarch and his subjects.

As a race the Derby is soon over. A few moments packed with perfervid expectancy, during which human concentration reaches its highest watermark, and then a mighty volume of cheering that reverbeartes for miles around.

But the Derby is more than the race. In a seuse, indeed, the race is only the briefest, albeit the supreme incident of a day of delights. The crowd, once seen, is never forgotten. Hence it has been said that no Englishman's education is complete till the has witnessed Epsom Downs on Derby Day.

THE ENVIOLIS ONLOGERES.

THE ENVIOUS ONLOOKERS.

THE ENVIOUS ONLOCKERS.

Thousands of those who cannot go there to-day will do the next best thing. They will watch others going. The road to Epsom this morning and forenoon presents a spectacle of the greatest procession on earth, a veritable carnival of mirth, giving effective refutation to the Continental taunt that the English take their pleasures sadly.

Take your stand at the Elephant and Castle, where the cavalcade converges from many tributaries upon the great Epsom stream; that is, if duty forbids your joining the pilgrims. Going to the Derby by train is by comparison a prosaic mode of travelling, though many will find the excellent facilities offered by the South-Eastern and the London and Brighton more convenient, and, of course, speedier.

THE BUSY "ELEPHANT."

From all the finger-tips of the metropolis come an infinite variety of conveyances. They meet at the "Elephant," which for the time being is the busiest of all the London crossings. The arms of the policemen ache from waving them like semaphores all the morning. Amazing skill of driving is displayed on the Epsom Toad, as every known

(and many indescribable) sort of vehicle rolls along, at varying speeds, dodging in and out of each other's way.

Only on Detby Day can the picturesque survivals of Cockneydom be seen in all their sartorial glory--Harry decked out in "pearlies?" and bell-mouthed trousers, while his fair namesake wears her best black velvets and a headgear of nodding plumes that dangle on each side of her face.

COSTERS' HONEYMOON.

COSTERS' HONETMOON.

It is a custom with newly-married Cockneys to regard the drive to the Derby in a donkey-cart as their honeymoon outing. "Kings may be blest, but they are glorious."

Rollicking good humour is everywhere, and all class distinctions are obliterated, unless perhaps the witty costermonger throws a patronising jibe at more ostentations four-in-hands or motor-cars that make to pass his ambling donkey.

Down the road the country is beautiful at this season of the year, when leafy June begins to work wonders in field and wood. Racing apart, the drive is the thing upon which many count for a large share of their enjoyment.

EMBASSY MOTORS.

By reason of Gouvernant's presence among the Derby runners, the French colony in London are expected to attend Eposm in considerable numbers. The diplomatic staff at the Embassy are driving down in five motor-cars, flying their national colours; and many Soho restaurateurs and waiters, finding that the Derby does not agree with their business, will, for once in a lifetime, give up their business.

RUSSIANS AND THE DERRY.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Tuesday.

Sr. Petersbucg, Tuesday.
Considerable interest is being taken by Russian sporting men in the English Derby.
The tace is regarded as a walk-over for the French horse, Gouvernant, and unflattering allusions to this year's English form are made in several newspapers.
Profiting by the public's desire to back Gouvernant, a bookmaker whose station is near the Bourse is laying cramped odds (II to I) against the favourite. St. Amant, John o' Gaunt, and Henry the First are quoted at 6 to 1, Andover is at 15 to 1, while 50 to 1 against any other candidate goes a-begging. begging.

OUR DERBY FEATURES.

This morning's issue contains many interesting Derby features.

On page 1 are portraits of Mornington Cannon, Kempton Cannon, and O. Madden, and the horses they ride, Gouvernant, St. Amant, and Henry the First; also two typical Epsom scenes—the famous Hill, as seen from the stands, and Tattenham Corner, with the grand stand and winning-post in the distance.

the distance.

On page 8 are portraits of two veterans, Johnsy Osborne and Harry Custance, who both in their day rode the winner. There is also a photograph of a drag on the way up to the Hill, at which point of vantage a large number always take up positions. On page 9 is a photograph of C. Trigg on St. Denis, and W. Lane on Andover.

On page 12 is the story of the most sensational Derby on record, and on page 13 pictures of the humours of the Derby.

On page 14 will be found Derby notes and selections by "Grey Friars;" also the names of runners and jockeys.

DERBY WEATHER.

Epsom Roads Will Hardly Need Oiling for Dust.

Will it be fine for Derby day? The meteo will to enice for Derby day? The mecenological experts do not hold out very substantial hopes for sunshine, but the ordinary man relies on the never-failing variableness of London weather.

It could hardly have rained much much harder and persistently than it did yesterday; therefore the greater chance of local pient conditions for to-day.

Really at this time of year the weather is as much a lottery as the annual office sweepstakes. Although the latter has one element of certainty in that the favourite is always drawn by a friend of the drawers, of whom nobody has ever heard. With the wind in the south-west, rainstorms continually drive up from the Atlantic, of which little notice can be given or expected.

For one thing this will be a dustless Derby, and the oil to which the Epsom roads have been treated by the District Council will not be needed.

The best rule for a race-goer to-day is most certainly to take a mackintosh and umbrella with him if the day is fine when he starts. If it is pouring with rain, he may be permitted to do as he chooses.

CROPS SUFFER FROM HAIL.

One of the worst thunderstorms experienced for many years passed over the Fen district yesferday. It raged with unabated fury for over two hours. The lightning flashes were incessant, sometimes five and six occurring in a single moment. A perfect deluge of rain and hail accompanied the storm. The hailstones were almost as large as walnuts, and considerable damage has been occasioned to the pea and beau crops, and fruit trees have all seriously suffered.

DALNY FALLS.

Japanese Occupy Russia's Model Port.

THE CITY LEFT IN FLAMES.

Kuropatkin's Desperate Dash for Port Arthur.

Following up their successes at Kinchow and Nanshan, the Japanese have occupied Dalny, "Russia's Garden City," on the east coast of the Liao-tung Peninsula, and only about ten to fifteen miles from Port Arthur. The Russians set the town on fire before leaving, sank steamers, and did other damage, and were followed by bandits, who continued the work of destruction until the arrival of the Japanese. Much valuable property has, however, fallen into the hands of General Oku's troops

The Japanese have captured the naval guns which the Russians had taken from Port Arthur to defend Nanshan.

LAST NIGHT'S TELEGRAMS.

JAPS ENTER DALNY.

Russians and Bandits Wrecking and Pillaging.

The Japanese Legation has received the following telegram, dated Tokio, yesterday.
General Oku reports: "Our detachment occupied Dalny on May 30,
"Over one hundred warehouses, barracks, besides telegraph office and railway station, were found uninjured. Over two hundred and ninety railway cars still usable, but all swap railway bridges in the neighbourhood destroyer.

"Docks and piers uninjured," except the great pier, which sunk. Steam launches also sunk at the mouth of dock."

Dalny is the city which was built by Russia on the site of a few Chinese villages for a population of 100,000 people at the cost of £5,000,000.

CHIFU, Tuesday, 7.30 p.

Citiev, Tuesday, 7.30 p.m.

Five hundred Chinese refugees from Dalny arrived here to-day.

A Chinese contractor who built the greater part of Dalny for the Russians was held for ransom, and his clecks were killed. The town was still burning on the 28th. One junk was sunk by bandits while attempting to leave Dalny, and fifty Chinese were drowned. The Chinese seem to be afraid of both Russians and Japanese.—Reuter's Special Service.

RUSSIANS DESTROY A GUNBOAT.

Tokio, Tuesday

The Russians have destroyed the gunboat which they used at Talien-wan against the Japanese left flank during the battle at Nanshan. The name of the vessel is not known, but it was possibly the Bobr.—Reuter.

JAPS CAPTURE NAVAL GUNS.

Another Reuter message says that the Japanese have captured the naval guns which had been taken from Port Arthur to defend Nanshan.

TOGO WATCHING. Tokto, Tuesday.

A Japanese flotilla yesterday made a reconnais sance off Port Arthur. The forts fired, causing four casualties on a Japanese gunboat.—Reuter.

KUROPATKIN DESPERATE.

Marching to the Relief of Port Arthur.

PARIS, Tuesday.

A telegram from St. Petersburg to the "Matin" says it is persistently rumoured that General Kuropatkin has set out with 80,000 men to the relief of Port Arthur, the capture of Kinchow having forced him to modify his original plans. The Russian Commander-in-Chief leaves a strong force at Liacyang to prevent the Japanese from cutting off his

KUROKI STILL ADVANCING.

CHIFU, Tuesday From a Manchurian merchant I learn that the From a Manchurian merchant I learn that the Japanese have occupied the Motienling mountains, a hundred miles north-west of Feng-huang-cheng and directly east of Liao-yang. There is only one pass through the range.—Reuter's Special Service.

The Motienling pass is 45 miles by road from Lino-yang.

BACK TO ST. STEPHEN'S.

Mr. Winston Churchill Sits on Opposition Benches.

Members of Parliament appeared loth to return to Westminster yesterday after nearly a fortnight's recess during the Whitsuntide holiday, and there was a very sparse attendance in the House of Commons when the Speaker took the chair.

One incident created a mild sensation, and gave rise to considerable speculation as to its signifi-cance. Mr. Winston Churchill, when he entered the House, instead of passing to his former place among the Unionist rank and file, took a seat in the front bench below the gangway on the Opposi-

One of the chief topics discussed in the Lobby was the Royal Commission's recommendations on the subject of conscription. Last night the Council of the International League circulated a resolu-tion passed by them in the form of a protest against onscription's "manifold evils and horrors."

There is good reason to believe that there is at present no probability of the Government ing to establish any system of conscription.

TIBET COMMUNICATIONS RESUMED.

In answer to a request for the latest information from Tibet, Mr. Brodrick stated that communicafrom Tibet, Mr. Brodrick stated that communica-tions with the mission, which were interrupted on May 23 were resumed on May 28. The announce-ment already made of the decision of the Govern-ment as to negotiations at Lhassa would be ad-hered to, and it was not intended to depart in any way from the policy laid down in the telegram (f November 6 last.

The Government had taken steps to send for-ward such reinforcements as were considered necess-sary for the safety of the mission. Up to March 31 the cost of the mission that been 2380,000. The monthly cost since the beginning of April had been 250,000.

sequently the House went into Committee of

During yesterday's sitting a number of cab proprietors visited the House of Commons to lay their grievances before members.

TERRORISED BY BANDITS.

British Residents Outside Tangier Leave Their Homes.

The British Admiral from Gibraltar has arrived here on the dispatch vessel Surprise to confer with the British Minister on the measures to be taken to secure the release of Mr. Varley from the bandits who captured him and Mr. Perdicaris, his who captured him and Mr. Perdicaris, his American father-in-law. The town is in an anxious state. British resi-dents living outside Tangier have been requested by the British Consul to come in, and some of those living in the outskirts have already left their houses.—Reuter.

Mr. Hay, American Secretary of State, has re-quested France to exercise her good offices to obtain the release of Mr. Perdicaris. France has accepted the task.

RAILWAY GHOST.

Strange Story of a Sheeted Figure and a Mystified Porter.

The famous ruin of Kirkstall Abbey, near Leeds, has its ghost. A station porter was pacing the platform at midnight when he noticed a spectral figure clad apparently in a long grey sheet, dow which streamed a long streak of red. Then it mysteriously disappeared.

mysteriously disappeared.

A passenger alighting at the station early in the morning called the attention of the same porter to a weird figure gesticulating from the roof of one of the wooden sheds which lie behind the station buildings. Closely followed by the booking-clerk the two ran towards the ghost, which was immediately seen flitting towards the exact spot where the porter had previously lost sight of it, and here for the second time the apparition disappeared.

On another night strange lights were seen flickering around the station and the neighbourhood of the goods shed, and again the ghost appeared. This time a party was formed with the object of solving the mystery, but although each one took a different direction the search was again fruitless.

CONFUSION OF NAMES.

We regret that owing to an unfortunate error, in a small portion of the issue of the Daily Mirror on Monday, the name of Lieutenant Sherston appeared as having been killed in the engagement in Tibet.

The mistake arose through a confusion of his name with that of Lieutenant Garstin, the gallant young officer of the Moyal Engineers, who fell in the action with the Tibetans.

THE GREAT CAB STAND.

Will the Railway Stations Be Cabless To-day?

RECRUITS WANTED.

Monday found the confirmed cab-rider in a state of consternation. He heard of a demand, the result of a mass meeting prolonged into the small hours of Sunday morning, on the part of the London Jehus for cheaper cabs.

In reply the proprietors said they would stick to the Asquith award rate of 16s. a day for the six the Asquith award rate of 16s. a day for the six weeks beginning on Saturday next, and if the men insisted on 16s. only, very well, the cabs should stay "at home." In the course of the day he learnt that 3,000 cabs were not working. Yesterday his fears were increased, for he heard the men's Union had increased by over a thousand members to 6,590, pledged to 14s., according to Mr. Michael. He saw the rain falling. He asked himself—Where is my cab to come from?

Plenty of Cabs.

Plenty of Gabs.

But he had no difficulty in getting one. In Northumberland-avenue, along Piccadilly, and in Pall Mall, among the clubs, hackneys of two or four wheels abounded. Half a mile of waiting tabs attended the kerbstones outside the Temple Flower Show. It was a little difficult to get a cab from Chelsea to town, say, in the morning, but then it nearly always is, and the pelting min accounted for the extra demand. Along Oxford-street and Holborn, in the City, and back again up Cheapside, Cannon-street, Fleet-street, and the Strand, to Charing Cross, cabs were plentiful. How was this?

"Why, when there is a big dispute on and 4,000 cabs are avowedly at home, are the public put to no perceptible inconvenience even on a rainy day?" asked a Mirror representative, of a driver who was wandering over London as a seller of the yellow shilling strike fund tickets insued by the Union.

Too Many Licences.

"Ion Many Licences.

"Ien't it clear, sir?" he said, with a smile. "In the first place we are winning. The masters are giving in, as you will see from the number of FAA.I.R. flags on the drivers' whips. A great many small proprietors are driving their own cabs to keep things going.

"Then, again, there are thousands more cabs licensed than London needs. The Scotland Yard people have no power to refuse a licence. They just issue, they don't regulate, licences.

"To-morrow, if the privileged drivers come out, you won't be able to get a cab at a station when you arrive with luggage; then the public may be inconvenienced seriously."

Pity the sorrows of the homecoming husband who finds the household in confusion and his wife in tears after a holiday. She has waited hours for a cab. She has eventually left what precious parcels she and the children could not carry in the cloak-room and come home by three changes of ommbuses and a stretch of Underground Railway.

Masters Confident.

Masters Confident.

Meaters Confident.

Yesterday aftermon there was a meeting of proprietors representing a total of some 9,000 cabs.

It was unanimously resolved to support the resolution come to by the meeting on Monday refusing to grant the men's demands, and to meet again daily during the crisis.

A plan of campaign was organised. Delegates were told off to each district of London to work among those owners who have not yet joined forces with the great mass of proprietors.

The masters are as confident of success and as ready to fight to a finish as the men. Several owners, who have been making a practice of taking short money—that is, Is, under the award rate—ame into the masters' camp yesterday.

COSTUME BALL AT THE ALBERT HALL.

Excitement reigned at the Albert Hall last night the great costume ball in aid of Charing Cross fospital when the Alake of Abockuta arrived. As usual, he was gorgeously garbed, and in a box the middle of the first tier thoroughly enjoyed in the modified in the first thet motionizing enjoyed the sight.

The Revue Lancers, representing the various musical plays which have been produced at Daly's Pheatre, met with great applause.

Many striking and original costumes were worm, and the larger part of the company were in fancy dress. Supper was a very cheery affair, and dancing went on until a very early hour.

THE OIL WAR.

Londoners should now be able to obtain Russian paralin at 3d. per gallon.

There was no new phase of the struggle yester-day. Both the Anglo-American and the Shell Transport Companies are now selling Russian oil to retailers at 2½ d. per gallon. The next move is spected from the Anglo-American Company, the with the Rockefeller millions behind it, will utmost to obtain complete control of the COWS AND CONSUMPTION. THRASHED THE PRIMATE.

Royal Commission Makes Important Discoveries.

The results of experiments by the Royal Com-mission on Tuberculosis have proved so striking that the members yesterday issued an interim report declaring that the presence of tuberculous bacillus in the milk or flesh of the cow may be a cause of tuberculosis in man.

The Commission started out to test a widely spread view that the bacillus which caused tuber culosis in cattle was specifically distinct from the bacillus which gave rise to tuberculosis in the human being, and that there was consequently no danger to men in eating the flesh of an infected

So far from this being the case, the Commission's

So far from this being the case, the Commission's experiments proved that tuberculous material of human origin introduced into cattle immediately caused acute tuberculosis, and in some instances the disease was of remarkable severity.

The important fact was also disclosed that tubercle of human origin can cause tuberculosis in cattle identical with ordinary bovine tuberculosis, and the Commission therefore concludes:—

"This result seems to us to show quite clearly that it would be most unwise to frame or modify legislative measures in accordance with the view that human and bovine tubercle bacilli are specifically different from each other, and that the disease caused by the one is a wholly different thing from the disease caused by the other.

UNCANNY FISHING.

Destroyers Set Nets to Catch Submarines.

Netting submarines is a sport first devised by Admiral Sir A. H. Wilson, Commander-in-Chief of the Home Flect. Some interesting experiments in this direction are now in preparation at Ports-

Three cutters have been fitted to carry a long steel net, which is to be used for the purpose of trying to catch submarines when they are under During the experiments the boats will water. During the experiments the boats will dive and the cutters try to catch them in the net. This is about 200th tong, and is similar to the torpedo nets of warships, except that its meshes are smaller. To-day the submarine boats are in the tidal basin getting ready for the netting tests. Several destroyers are being exercised in Stokes Bay, firing at targets shaped like the conning tower of the submarine. These targets are towed along so rapidly that they become partly submerged, and the object of the firing is to give the gunners of destroyers experience in hitting such objects.

WHAT IS BRANDY?

Ingredients of Cheap Doctored Spirits Must Be Declared.

Mr. Fordham, the North London Police Court magistrate, has decided that "brandy is an alco-holic liquid, the spirit of which is obtained by distillation of wine from the grape," and he has fined a retailer £5 and £50 costs for selling a spirit a brandy which did not come within this definition.

brandy which did not come within this definition.

The dealer, who was fined, relied on the fact that under the Sale of Foods and Drugs Act a public analyst will report any spirit, whether it be whisky, brandy, rum, or gin, as genuine so long as it contains a standard sufficiency of alcohol.

If Mr. Fordham's contention is upheld, and if persons asking for brandy are entitled to have distilled juice of the grave, they must be prepared to pay a high price for the huxary.

The cheap concotion now masquerading under the name of brandy must be sofd under some other name which more accurately suggests its composition.

£672 FOR AN ORCHID.

An important sale of eighty-one lots of special orchids attracted a very large company of well-known people to Messrs. Protheroe and Morris's auction rooms in Cheapside yesterday.

The finest plant offered was an Odontoglossum crispum Cooksoniae. There was keen competition for this magnificent orchid, and ultimately it was sold for the remarkable sum of £672.

The next highest price realised was £689 10s. for an Odontoglossum crispum Franz Mascreel. Other notable prices paid were £456 10s. for an Odontoglossum crispum Grarifianum. Four plants realised over £200 apiece, and four others between £100 and £200.

A steam drifter, chartered by the Canadian Government, has arrived in Halifax from Scotland to be used for the herring fishery.

Schoolboy Incident That Did the Archbishop "a Power of Good."

An amusing reminiscence of how he flogged the Primate was related by the Rev. Canon Bury, R.D., at a meeting at Northampton yesterday.

They were, he said, at school together, their master being Canon Bury's father. He could not recall that the future Archbishop was remarkable for anything save his inordinate impudence. On for anything save his inordinate impudence. On the other hand, he (Canon Bury) was conspicuous for his forbearance.

On one occasion, however, young Davidson provoked him beyond all patience, and he gave him a severe thrashing. But the future Primate did not take it "lying down." On the contrary, he made wholesale complaints which led to Canon Bury and his father both getting into trouble.

But he firmly believed—were he an Archbishop he would say he was profoundly convinced—that the flogging did the Archbishop a power of good. It was the foundation of the character Davidson afterwards displayed of taxt and caution and reverence for his superiors, which had led in a great measure to his elevation to the Primacy.

SHOWERS AND FLOWERS.

King and Queen Visit the Temple Show.

Torrential rain did not prevent the King and Queen from paying a visit early yesterday to the Temple Flower Show, one of the most charming

The rain seemed to make no difference to their Majesties, beaming and gracious, who made a lengthy inspection of the beautiful exhibits. The Queen, who was dressed in half mourning, took particular notice of the lilies-of-the-valley, her favourite flower, and, like his distinguished subject Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the King seemed to be most interested in the orchids.

In spite of the rain thundering down on the canvas roofs of the tents, there was no lack of visitors, all enjoying the wealth of colour and the fragrant ecents of the exquisite blossoms.

There is a brave show of roses of every conceivable hue, from deep reds and crimsons to the little pale Austrian rose. The famous peonies stand in air comparison with the splendid rhododendrons and delicate analeas.

Clematis of every shade stand in delightful pro-The rain seemed to make no difference to their and delicate azaleas.

Clematis of every shade stand in delightful profusion next to the rich blossoms of many-coloured carnations and litacs, ranging from white and palest pink to deep purple-manue, with double flowers, and vie with each other in beauty.
The black Hamburg grapes actually growing in pots, the trees of ripe peaches and nectarines, and rich black cherries, all came in for much admiration.

EDGE OFF THE CONTEST.

England's Poor Chances in the Gordon-Bennett Race.

According to Mr, S. F. Edge the prospects of the English automobile team for winning the Gordon-Bennett Cup this year are not very cheering.

In an interview with a Mirror representative yesterday, Mr. Edge said, "The Mercedes Company have five cars entered for the race, and this will give them a great advantage.

"I am not satisfied with our chances, as we have not been allowed to enter the fastest Napier car. I chose one for the Isle of Man climinating trials because it was the most suitable for those roads, but I should not have chosen that car to race with in Germany.

I should not have chosen that car to race with in Germany.

"The racing committee this year have strangely decided that the automobiles which won in the Isle of Man trials must race for the Gordon-Bennett Cup and no others.

"Personally," said Mr. Edge, "I think that Jarrott will have a good try for the Cup on the Wolseley car, but unless we have a stroke of luck I do not think there is any chance of the cup coming here."

WHISKY FIRM'S RIFLE RANGE.

To encourage his employees to make themselves efficient marksmen, and thus capable of taking part in the military defence of the country, Mr. James Buchanan, head of the whisky distilling firm of that name, has provided for them a miniature rifle range at Kingsbury, near Hendon.

Mrs. Buchanan fired the inaugural shot, scoring

There are four targets, representing ranges from 200 yards to 500 yards, and a running and a disappearing man. Trask's ammunition, with which the cartridge cases can be refilled over and over again, is to be used.

The targets can all be manipulated from the firing-point, and by an ingenious arrangement of screens packed with shingle the danger from bad shots is reduced to a minimum.

A photograph of Mrs. Buchanan firing the first shot appears on page 9. There are four targets, representing ranges from

WESLEY REVISED.

Hymns from Which' Worms' Are Banished.

500 TONS PUBLISHED TO-DAY

Shall I—amidst a ghastly band,
Dragged to the judgment seatFar on the left, with horror, stand,
My fearful doom to meet?

This is one of the verses of a famous hymn by Charles Wesley which will not appear in the new Wesleyan Methodist hymn-book published by the Wesleyan Methodist hymn-book published by the City-road Book Room to-day.

In the million and a half copies which constitute the record first edition of this revised hymnal no room has been found for several archaic expressions, stern anathemas, and quaintnesses which characterised the verses of many of the hymn-writers of the eighteenth century.

The "Worm" Excluded.

Comparison of man with a "worm" was frequent in the old hymn-book, sometimes resulting in the queerest of phrases, as for example:

Earth from afar hath heard Thy fame, And worms have learned to lisp Thy name.

In the new hymn-book the latter line, which spoiled an otherwise fine hymn, becomes:

Children have learned to lisp Thy name.

In another hymn the following verse, typical of the self-abasement of the early Methodist, has dis-appeared:—

Lord, regard my earnest cry,
A potsherd of the earth;
A poor, guilty worm am I,
A Canaanite by birth.

And in another of Charles Wesley's hymns the following is considered unsuited to modern congregational singing:—

Loathsome, and vile, and self-abhorred, I sink beneath my sin.

In one place at least the "worm" simile remains. It will be found in a verse of that world-known hymn, "The God of Abraham praise."

Magnificent Tunes.

Magnificent Tunes.

If the Methodists have lost some characteristic phrases they have gained by the addition of many magnificent tunes.

Sir Frederick Bridge has been adviser to the committee, and has secured tunes from every well known organist and most of the modern English composers of sacred music. Sir Frederick's own daughter, Miss Rosalind Bridge, is the youngest composer in the book. Some of the finest melodies have been harmonised from old Methodist tunes originally borrowed from the Ravenscroft Psalter, Lyra Davidica, and other seventeenth-century sources.

sources.
"Aberystwith," Dr. J. Parry's tune for "Jesu, Lover of my Soul," which is as popular in Wales as "Hiawatha" is in London, "Hyfrydre," set to "Hail Thou once despised Jesus," and other Welsh melodies wave been included, with the tune "Coburg," by the late Prince Consort, special permission to use the latter being given by his Majesty during his recent visit to Ireland.

500 Tons of Paper.

500 Tons of Paper.

Tonight over fifty railway vans will begin to collect the enormous first edition of this hymn-book from the publishing office in Cityroad. They will have to handle over 500 tons of paper, including tons of "Oxford India," the lightest known. Forty machines have been printing the seven editions for six months past, and all the best binders in Lendon have been engaged on the 200 different bindings.

VENGEFUL WOMAN.

Sarah Ann Smith, of Manchester, recently cameont of gaol after serving three months for larceny.

It was sileged at Manchester that she at once offered a woman named Motron 2s. if the latter could find Rose Greenhalgh, but shortly afterwards she herseli met Greenhalgh, to whom she said,
"I've been looking for you since I came out of the "stir' on Tuesday."
She accused Greenhalgh of "giving her away" to the police, and when the woman explained that she knew nothing about the case until she saw it in the papers, Smith retorted, "Well, you can read about this," and commenced stabbing her with a penknife.
When committed for trial on this charge. Smith-knife.

When committed for trial on this charge, Smith said she was "guilty in self-defence," hinting that the other woman was the aggressor.

CALLOUS RELATIVES.

After rescuing a young charwoman named Rosetta Taylor, who had attempted to drown herself in the canal at Bow, a policeman went to see some of her relatives.

He told the North London magistrate yesterday that one of them asked if she was dead, as if that was the case he would give him 2s. Another said it had been the end of the woman they would have had a "sing-song."

The magistrate asked the police court missionary to see if he could do anything for the woman.

FOOLISH INVESTMENTS.

Mr. Marshall's Admissions in the Bankruptcy Court.

Mr. George Marshall, who until recently acted as agent to the Duke of Newcastle, was escorted by two warders yesterday from Lincoln Gaol to the Sessions House, where his examination in bank-

Since the adjournment of the proceedings before the Registrar earlier in the month his arrest had the Registrar earlier in the month his arrest had taken place on a charge arising out of the disappearance of £12,000 in bank-notes, which he says were stolen from the Hotel Month of the Month of the times introduced the subject, insisting that he was robbed of the £12,009.

In the course of the examination he acknowledged that his firm had been hopelessly insolvent for years. Though he had never gone into the accounts before, he considered himself a fool not to have done so.

With reference to matter in which he acted in the capacity of trustee, the debtor stated that he was sole surviving trustee under Pinder's Trust, and received £2,000 on March 16, 1893, but as to what was done with that sum he could not say.

Mr. Stephenson: I put it to you that the very day you received the money you paid a thousand into your firm's accounts.

The Debro: I don't know.

In other instances he denied that there had been misappropriation. Some investments made with trust moneys had been rather foolish, and, as the security failed, the firm as trustees had continued to pay the interest.

The examination was again adjourned.

STOICAL CHINAMAN HANGED.

His Attitude of Calm Indifference to Death.

Till the last Pong Lun, a Chinese laundryman, who was executed at Liverpool yesterday for the murder of a fellow-countryman during a quarrel over a game of dominoes, had preserved an attitude over a game of dominoes, had preserved an attitude of stoical indifference to his fate. Unflinchingly he walked to the scaffold in company with William Kirwan, a seaman, who shot his sister-in-law. Throughout the period between his sentence and execution Pong Lun's demeanour had always been the same. Unmoved he received the news that a reprieve would not be granted; he was no less resigned when the executioner entered his cell to prepare him for the scaffold. His haptism a week ago by the Archbishop of Hong Kong, from which place he came to Liverpool, and his subsequent confirmation by the Bishop of Liverpool, alke left him unmoved. Most of his time in prison appeared to be passed in day-dreaming, and it was very rarely that he made any remark to the warders, though he was able to speak several languages.

There was a large crowd outside the gaol at the hour of the execution, but it was remarked that no Chinaman was included in their number.

FOND OF DETECTIVE WORK.

FOND OF DETECTIVE WORK.

In the Divorce Division yesterday Mr. Justice Barnes had before him the petition of Mr. William Scott Rogerson, stated to be employed in some exploration company on the West Coast of Africa, for a divorce by reason of the alleged adultery of his wife, Mrs. Edith Mary Rogerson, with the co-respondent, Mr. Thomas Drummond, a bandsman employed at the Tower Music Hall, Black-pool. Answers were filed denying the charge, and the respondent alleged cruelty and adultery on the part of her husband, which he denied.

The petitioner said that he watched his wife and saw her meet the co-respondent, who afterwards went to her house in Imperial-street, Blackpool. When the latter came out he gave a false address. Later on he was seen, and he said he was sorry he had given a wrong address. He admitted going to the house, but said he only went there to see some curios. Witness gave an emphatic denial to the counter allegations.

Cross-examined, he denied he had given a fan (produced) to his wife. His lordship, at counsel's request, examined the fan, but could see nothing on one side. On the other there was a picture of a bull-light.

Mr. Pijke (for the respondent): There is a special

Pike (for the respondent): There is a special

Mr. Pike tor the respondent; I here is a special way of opening it.
Evidence having been given by a private detective named Robinson, Mrs. Betty Watts, an assistant to the latter, was called and examined Mr. Pike: I am somewhat puzzled why you are a detective?

Witness: I rather like the work.
The hearing was adjourned.

Brisk business is being done by the agents of the Hamburg-American Line in booking emigrants to America at 42 per head. Over 100 passages have been taken this week. The British lines still adhere to their former rates,

LOSING THE LAST TRAIN.

Wife's Story of Writing a Confession in Order to Compromise a Friend.

Jeune was asked yesterday in the Divorce Court o adjudicate on a very strange matrimonial en-

It was the suit of Mrs. Rosa Elizabeth Adams, who is demanding a divorce from her husband Mr. A. H. Adams, on the ground of his cruelty and misconduct. Mr. Adams has retorted by denying these allegations and making a counter allegation that his wife herself has been guilty of a matrimonial offence.

In opening Mrs. Adams's side of the story Mr. Williams, her junior counsel, took the Divorce Court, in imagination, to a little Bedfordshire village, Ledlington, in the "sixties." Here he showed the court two village children growing up together and playing together. This pastoral romance ended in the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Adams in 1886, and in Mr. Adams becoming manager of the local inn with his young wife as

MRS. ROSA ELIZABETH ADAMS yestorday sought a divorce from her husband, a licensed victualler, owing to his attentions to his barmaide.— (Sketched in court by a "Mirror" artist.)

Prosperity Brings Them to London

Their married life, according to Mr. Williams's picture of it, ran smoothly enough until, prosperity having come to them, they were enabled to remove to London, and eventually to take the Black Horse public-house in the Barbican.

Mrs. Adams had several complaints to make about her husband's gallantry towards his barmaids—and these complaints she repeated in the witness-box.

Ultimately she became convinced that he was in Sitting without a jury to assist him Sir Francis eune was asked yesterday in the Divorce Court of adjudicate on a very strange matrimonial enanglement.

It was the suit of Mrs. Rosa Elizabeth Adams, the is demanding a divorce from her husband, were taking place in Charterhouse-square.

A Compromising Situation.

To Charterhouse-square accordingly Mrs. Adams went one evening at ten o'clock, and to her dis-gust came across her husband with his arm round Miss Skinner's waist.

gust came across her husband with his arm round Miss Skinner's waist. Becoming very angry, Mrs. Adams ordered her husband back to the Black Horse, and he marched in front of her, still having Miss Skinner by his side until they got out of the square. Here Miss Skinner left him to go to her new home, and Mrs. Adams, losing all patience, chastised her husband with the umbrella which she carried. Having described her own grievance, Mrs. Adams was asked to give her version of the incident on which her husband bases his charge of infidelity against her.

Mrs. Adams had been staying with her sister at Tunbridge Wells, and while looking out of the window of the train at Sevenoaks on her return journey saw Mr. Hammond, whom she knew as a customer, standing on the platform. He came and spoke to her, and suggested that as he himself was returning to town by a later train—he had left a violin up in the town and had to fetch t—she should defer her journey until he next train. But when the next train came—it was the last Charlon that night—Mrs. Adams missed it.

Story of a Confession.

When she got back home her husband demanded an explanation, which she gave him, and then Mr. Adams made a startling suggestion, so his wife asserted in the witness-box. He proposed that she should write a letter to him, confessing misconduct with Mr. Hammond, and pointed out that £500 or £500 could be got from Mr. Hammond by means of this letter.

Very reluctantly Mrs. Adams wrote the letter, at her husband's dictation, she declared, as follows:

My Dear Husband,—I feel a most miserable woman, and must confess a great sin to you. I have been out several times with Mr. Hammond, and on October 7 last I stayed out with him all night. I canput remember the name of the house. It was a coffee-house, I camout write more, my heart is breaking. I have been tempted into this. With love to you, if you will accept it.—Your most miserable wife, Rose.

Mr. Bargave Deane, on behalf of Mr. Adams, cross-examined Mrs. Adams very closely about the Sevenoaks incident. She admitted that she told her husband that she had spent the night after the train-missing with a Mrs. Hartsorn, and that when Mrs. Hartsorn was confronted with her by her husband that lady denied they had stayed together.

Was There a Mistake?

Was There a Mistake?

"Did you," counsel continued, "after Mr. Adams had left the room, put your arms round Mrs. Hartson's neck, and ask her to help you; and did Mrs. Hartsorn then call Mr. Adams back and say that she had made a mistake, and that she had really stayed with you?"

Mr. Bargrave Deane then produced some letters written by Mrs. Adams to her husband, from which he read extracts. One of these extracts was: "I have told you all now, and I pray you to forgive me."

me."

This letter Mrs. Adams said was also written at her husband's dictation.

The case was adjourned until to-day.

"SLAVEY" AS AN INSULT.

The question as to whether the term "slavey" can be regarded as an offensive one to apply to a domestic servant was raised during the hearing of a summons at the South-Western Police Court of a summons at the South-Western Police Court yesterday.

Two brothers living in Ramsden-road, Balham, were alleged to have annoyed a servant employed at the house next door by calling out, "Helloa, slavey!" at her in the street. In defence it was contended that the word could not be regarded as offensive.

The Magistrate: I don't know; it's not a very nice thing to be called.

In the end the summons was dismissed, the magistrate remarking, however, that to call a servant by the term "slavey" was calculated to give great annoyance.

great annovance.

CHARGE OF CUTTING A WINDOW.

Albert Carter, the Kensington youth who was charged at Marylebone with maliciously cutting a plate-glass window in High-street, Notting Hill, was discharged from custody yesterday, the magistrate remarking that he left the court without a stain on his character. An examination of the window had shown that it had merely been scratched.

SNATCHED FROM DEATH.

Since finishing work at Buckingham Palace on Christmas Eve Charles Partleton, a labourer, told the Westminster magistrate yesterday that he had the Westminster magistrate yesterday that he had been mithout employment. He had been nine weeks in bed with rheumatism, and yesterday attempted suicide by throwing himself in front of an approaching train at Vauxhall Station. A porter just succeeded in pulling him off the line

The magistrate remanded him for a week

FRAUDULENT DERBY SWEEPSTAKE.

At the Old Bailey yesterday the trial was con-cluded of Harold Parker, thirty-four, journalist, cluded of Harold Parker, thirty-four, journalist, and Albert Victor Jackson, thirty-four, indicted on charges of obtaining money by fraud in connection with a last year's Derby sweepstake. For the prosecution it was contended that the sweepstake was a fraud, and that £8,000 had been obtained from the public, no fewer than 84,000 persons having subscribed to it.

Jackson had pleaded guilty. The jury found Parker guilty, and sentence on both prisoners was deferred until next session.

THE CITY.

Cheap Money and a Revival in Gilt-Edged Stocks.

pacific. The immediate leaves the anatomic of the process. The main allocates gradually rising to 4p per cent. It was the carry-over day on the Paris Bourse, but on the whole the Koreign market was cheered, owing to the whole the Koreign market was cheered, owing to work the control of the LATEST MARKET PRICES.

"." The "Daily Mirror" prices are the latest available. Unlike most of our contemporaries, we take special care to obtain the last quotations in the Street markets after the official close of the Stock Exchange,

The following are the closing prices for the day:

		Lacinconstill
Do Account 9013 idia 3 pc 971	9018	Western1253 *Mexican First 793	128
din 2 nc 071	974	*Mexican Kiret 701	79
C C 0 093	938	De Oed 100	10
ondon C.C. 3pc 938		Do Ord 188	18
at. War Loan. 988	988	Rosario Cons'd 921	92
ransvaal Loan 985	987	Do Def 84	- 86
	Biologie.	Canadian Pacific. 1205	120
rgentine 1886 103 Do Fund'g 1033 razilian 4 pc 1889 752 Do W.of Minas 863	1034	Gd. Tnk. Ord 14	14
rgentine toou too	1000	Ou. 1116. Old 127	3 43
Do Fund g 1034	104	Do 1st Pref .: 1023	102
razilian 4 pc 1889 754	753	Do 2nd ,, 37 Do 3rd ,, 30	87
Do W. of Minas 864	87	Do 3rd , 30	- 31
hili 1986 85	87	Nitrate Ord 73	11/2/10
Linear E no 1000 07	971
ninese 5 pc 1000 07	1013	4
gypti'n Unined 1043	1042	Aerated Bread 83
alian1024	103	Allsopp Ord 374	. 38
ap. 5pc Gd. 1895-6 87	89	Coats 98/-	99
Do W.of Minas 895 hili 1886	743	Gas Light Ord 94	98
D-1- 003	901	Hudaan Dan 203	46
er. Debs bar	903	Hudson Bay 393	4(
Do Pret 242	25	Ln. Gen. Om116	1119
	614	Lipton 19/- L.& I. D. Df. Ord. 86	26
ussian 4 nc 1809 804	893	L.& L. D. Df. Ord. 86	87
ussian 4 pc 1899 89 panish 4 pc (Sld) 84	85	Nelson's 15/-	16
patrish 4 po [July 591	888	Sweetmant Auto 35%	10
urkish 4 pc Un'd. 835 ruguay 33 pc 543		Sweetmeat Auto. 15/6	16
ruguay 31 pc 543	554	Vickers, Maxim 11
	25 3 X	*Welsbach Ord/ }
righton Def1204	1202
aledonian Def 31	314	tAnglo-French 3-8	3000
		Transfor French of	5
entral London. 921	931	Ashanti G. F 2	- 2
hatham Ord 161	163	Assoc, G. M 3 Barnato Cons 23	2
Do Pref 98	100	Barnato Cons 27	9
hatham Ord 161 Do Pref 98 Do 2nd Pref. 65	68	Champ. Reef 34/6	2 25
To Zina Tion. 60	93	Chartered Co 2	, 00
reat Eastern 921 t. Northern Def. 402		Chartered Co 2	- X
t. Northern Det. 404	41	City & Sub 63
reat Central A 149 reat Western1421	15	Con. Gold S.A 6 Crown Reef 13 De Beers Def 19	1 6
reat Western 1424	1427	Crown Reef 134	14
letropolitan 961	97	De Reers Def 101	10
interiot 203	401	Fort Rand ristrict opt	AUX.	E. Rand. M. Est., 4
listrict 393 lidland Pref 704	71	E. Rand. M. Est., 44	9
Do Def 694 orth British Def. 444 orth Eastern 1424 orth Western 155	701	Geduld 61 G'ld'nhuis E 52	€
orth British Def. 444	444	G'ld'nhuis E 54	5
orth Eastern .: 1424	1429	Gold Coast Amt 21	9
orth Western 155	1551	Gold'n Horseshoe 7	7
outh Fast's Def sol	59	aCa Did Day Nam 1716	10
outh East'n Def. 581 outh West. Def. 552		*Gt. Bld. Per. New 17/6	18/
outh West. Det. 551	561	Do Prop 27/-	271
Do Ord 164	167	Gt. Fingall 10/ 7	8 8
		Ivanhoe 72	8
tchison 703	71	Joh. Con. In. 24	3 9
altimore 701	801	Knighte E3	- 2
dicimore 198	003	Labor Wine Committee	0
пезареаке 304	313	Lake View Cons. 1	1
altimore 79% hesapeake 30% hi., Mil. & S. Pl 148%	1433	Ivanhoe	4
enver 208		Meyer & Charl 51	. 5
rie Shares	234	Modderfontein of	0
Do Prof 503	59	Mysore Gold 6	0 40
100 Telester 1903	1991		0
linois Cent 1323	Tool .	Nile Valley 1	1
ville and N'ville109	1103	N. Copper 31 Nundydroog 11	. 3
issouri 161	163	Nundydroog 1	1
ntario 224	221	Ooregum 13	. 1
Norfolk Com 56	568	Oregum 13 Oroya Br wnhills 3	1 0
TOTAL COM DON	588	Dioya Di Williams Sy
ennsylvania 58	DOT	Frimrose (New). og	3 3
eading 221	ZZZ	Randfontein 31	3
outhern Ord 20%	204	Rio Tinto 50	51
eading 221 outhern Ord 208 outhern Pacific 46 nion Pacific 854 .S. Steel Ord 98	469	Rand Mines 101	10
nion Pacific 851	953	Sons Gwalia . 11	- 3
C Ctral Out	008	Sons Gwalia 15 Trans. Devel 12
	278	Trans. Devel 12

Fels-Naptha

Soaking does half the work: half the usual rubbing is then enough.

And yet Fels-Naptha is mild, not harsh.

Go by the book. Fels-Naptha 39 Wilson street London E Q

MUCH NEWS IN FEW WORDS.

There are no fewer than 170 society weddings plready fixed to take place during June.

Two cases of smallpox from Bethnal Green were admitted to the hospitals of the Metropolitan Asylums Board yesterday.

Miss Beatrice Tomasson, an English lady, ac-companied by Guide Joseph Demarchi, has made a successful ascent of Mont Blanc, in spite of a heavy fall of snow.

A chicken with four legs was amongst a brood recently hatched at Dover. It lived for forty-eight hours, and the owner is having it stuffed as a cariosity.

In the great conservatory at the Royal Botanical Gardens, Queen Victoria tasted her first banana. The banana was handed to the Queen while waiting for the Prince Consort; and the incident is chronicled in the story of the gardens.

ALIEN SALLORS' FATAL FRAY.

Juan Saco, a Spanish sailor, was found yesterday ing against a wall in Cardiff bleeding from a ound in his breast. He died in an adjacent surgery.

It is alleged that there was a quarrel between Saco and a compatriot, also a sailor, who was arrested at the docks, and will be charged to-day.

104-AND STILL WORKING

A remarkable old man has been discovered in Folkestone. His name is George Keel. He was born at Manton, near Marlborough, Wittshire, in 1600, and is still hale, hearty, and comparatively strong.

He reads without the aid of glasses, and, still more remarkable, goes to work because he loves it. His work is gardening.

OUR KING'S 36,000 RELATIONS.

It has become possible for a modern genealogist to trace the Blood Royal of Britain in all its representatives; and demonstrate to us that 36,735 persons now living can boast of possessing that distinction; and in a book recently published is given a list, with detailed proofs, of the thrity-six thousand odd relatives of his Majesty King Edward VII.

FATHER ROBS HIS SON.

At Middlesbrough, Dennis Donovan was charged with the theft of a gold watch, gold albert, and other articles, the property of his son.

Prisoner left his wife and children some two years ago, and the son had supported them. About a month ago prisoner came home, stating that he was ill, and he was given shelter, and a few days ago he took his son's property and pawned it. He was sent to gool for three months, with hard labour.

CHILD'S MARVELLOUS ESCAPE.

The child of John Prout, living at St. Newlyn East, has had a remarkable escape: Prout had re-moved the stone slab covering a well, and, when a short distance away, he turned round and saw his little son, aged three years, looking down the well.

Before he could speak, to his horror he saw the child fall head first into the well, 34ft. deep, and containing 31ft. of water.

Ladders were procured, and the unhappy father descended, expecting to find the body of his child, but to his great relief and surprise he found it alive in the water clinging to a projection. Medical examination showed that the boy was not in any way injured.

MISSED THEIR HOLIDAY MONEY.

James Gilgannon, treasurer of the Ecclesiastical IIall branch of the Miners' Association, was clarged at St. Helean yeakerday with stealing £180 belonging to the members.

This money was a portion of the members' subscriptions that are annually divided for holiday purposes. On Saurday morning, May 21, when the members met at the colliery to receive their money for the Whitsun holidays, prisoner could not be found. When arrested he had only four-pence in his possession.

is possession.
was remanded for one week.

WHAT LONDON POLICE DO.

Amongst other figures the following are given in the City of London Police Report for the past year: - Arrests, 4,701, including 1,439 charges of drunken

Arrests, 4,701, including 1,403 changes and yehicles, 1,300, of which 10 proved fatal.
Offences against property with violence, 187;
Without violence, 1,646.
Property stolen, 4,719,860.
Stolen property recovered, 4,51,100.
Children and missing persons found, 854.
Smiddes, 28.
Smiddes prevented by the police, 46.
Doors and windows insecurely fastened, 2,344.
Gas left on, 1,236.
Runaway horses atopped by the police, 23.

Man bagged 199 tigers and the tigers bagged 190 pen in the Central Provinces of India in 1903.

The Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg-Strelitz left Victoria yesterday for Neustrelitz to arrange for the funeral of her husband.

As a train steamed into Portsmouth Station a woman named Harriet McCarthy threw herself in front of it. One of the wheels crushed her hat, but she herself was unhurt,

The will of the well-known reciter, Mr. J. Clifford Stanley Harrison, who died on December 17 last, has been proved. The estate is sworn at £1,170, and net personalty at £936.

Professor Herkomer has severed his official con-nection with the famous Herkomer Art School at Bushey after devoting twenty-one years' service gratuitously to it. The school will in consequence be closed.

BRIDE WEARS JENNY LIND'S VEIL.

Mr. John Duncan Gregory, of the Foreign Office, and Miss Gwendolen Lind Maude, grand-daughter of the famous songstress, Jenny Lind, were married at Brompton Oratory yesterday after-noon. Miss Maude is a cousin of Mr. Cyril Maude, the well-known actor, and also of the Earl de Montel?

de Montalt.

The bride wore the same Brussels lace veil in which Jenny Lind was married.

Among the hundreds of wedding presents received by the happy couple was a signed photograph from his Holiness the Pope, and a Chippendale card-table from Princess Christian.

REFUSED TO BE SAVED.

Silas Barber, while working on a lighter in the Cardiff Docks, slipped into the water. His fellow workmen, thinking he had fallen in accidentally, pushed out a plank towards him, but he refused to avail himself of the proffered help, and sank. The body was not recovered for some hours.

NEW TRAMWAY OPENED TO-DAY

The Board of Trade inspection of the extension of the London United Electric Tramway system from Southall to Usbridge, and the new branch from Hammersmith to Acton Vale, took place yesterday, and the new line will be opened to the public to-day.

The through fare from Shepherd's Bush or Hammersmith to Uxbridge, a distance of more than twelve miles, will be 5d.

NEGLECTED THEIR BURNT CHILD.

When John Cromwell and Amy A. Alker were charged at Carnarvon with neglecting their child, Mr. J. T. Roberts, who prosecuted, said that the defendants and the child slept together in the same bed, and some time in the early hours of the morning a next-door neighbour heard the child crying. In the course of the day it was found that the child had burnt its forearm badly; but neither defendant seemed to have procured medical aid until the 4th, when the child died.

The Beach committed Cromwell to two months and Alker to three months' imprisonment.

WHY THE DUCHESS RESIGNED.

À curious dispute between herself and a super-intendent nurse has resulted in the Duchess of Sutherland resigning the presidency of the Suther-land Nursing Association. The Duchess wrote privately to the superintendent of the nurses, Miss Stevenson, suggesting that, in view of certain changes of policy, Miss Stevenson should send in her resignation.

changes of policy, Miss Stevenson should send in her resignation.

Miss Stevenson, who had been connected with the association for six and a half years, refused to resign, and at a special meeting of the committee submitted the correspondence between the Duchess and herself. She intimated that the president had apparently assumed the duties and powers of the committee, and also tendered her resignation to that body, which, however, by seven votes to six, decided not to accept it.

Thereupon the Duchess retired from the presidency of the association.

DESERTED SIX WEEKS AFTER MARRIAGE.

After only two months of married life, George Wilson, a shoemaker, appeared before the Lincoln magistrates on a charge of neglecting to maintain his wife.

his wife.

The wife stated that he had behaved very cruelly to her. They had only been married about six weeks when he removed everything out of the house, and left her in a destitute condition.

Defendant was fined 49s., inncluding costs, or 21 days' imprisonment.

KEPT BY HIS GRANDMOTHER.

John Shaw was charged at Eccles with neglecting his wife and family. The defendant's grandmother said she was eighty-four years of age, and had to help to keep him and his three children. He was too lazy to work, and any money he carned he spent on cakes and sweets for himself.

After evidence by Mrs. Shaw, a separation order was granted, the defendant to pay 7s. a week.

Without ever having seen the sea or been in a train, a woman, aged eighty-eight, has just died at East Coker, Yeovil.

Mr. Gerald Balfour, M.P., President of the Board of Trade, will open the new markets at Leeds on July 1. The buildings have cost about £120,000.

Arthur Bradley, aged four, of Affleck-street, Pentonville-road, running to meet his father re-turning from work, was run over by a Road Car omnibus and killed.

An addition has been made to the long list of mysteries in the Potteries by the strange disappear-ance of a deaf and dumb young man named Ains-worth, of Stoke-on-Trent.

Among the debtors at Westminster County Court yesterday were a sweep, a marine-store dealer, a schoolmaster, a policeman, a builder, a bailiff, a company director, and an Army major.

COMEDIAN HANGS HIMSELF.

Mr. Joseph Aines, a comedian, well known at Southend-on-Sea, was missed from his home on Monday night, and yesterday his body was found hanging to a tree at Leigh-on-Sea. It is stated that Mr. Aines had been engaged for the coming season at Southend.

BEGGAR WITH 47s. 6d. A WEEK.

At Dewsbury, when Sarah Tomlin was charged with begging, the police superintendent said she had an income of 47s, 64. a week from her husband and family, but owing to her drunken habits she had neglected her children.

She had been committed for two months, at Leeds, for neglecting her children, and the Bench now committed her to Wakefield for one month.

NO LONGER MOODY MANNERS.

Mr. Charles Manners says that he is no longer "moody," because he is now making money. The box-office receipts have increased wonderfully this week. Four rows have been added to the stalls at Drury Lane Theatre, and the prospects for English grand opera are very promising. Next week Mr. Manners intends to produce "The Flying Dutchman," which has not been done in London in English for nearly twenty years.

CITY EDITOR'S FATAL FALL.

Vesterday, at the inquest at the City Coroner's Court on the body of Mr. Herbert Edward Harper, managing director and editor of the "Wine Trade Journal," it was stated that he had a fit at his office, and fell violently on the floor. He was taken to hospital, where he died from internal hemorrhage, caused by his having broken five ribs in his fall.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.

250 FOR A MISSING MAID.

Bills were posted at the various police stations yesterday offering a reward of £80 for information regarding Marie Marthaler, the missing maid, who is alleged to have run away on May 24 with £3,000 worth of jewellery belonging to her mistress, Miss Nellic Seymour.

The portrait of the maid is reproduced on the poster. She is described as aged twenty-seven, height 5tt, slim build, pale complexion, dark eyes and hair, thin face, but teeth, high cheek-bones. Dressed, black jacket and skirt, black French sailor hat; has slovenly appearance; nationality, Swiss.

The missing woman may be accompanied by

The missing woman may be accompanied by a boy about four years of age, with very dark, Italian features.

DRUNKARD TOO FOND OF WATER.

Samuel Gent, an elderly greengrocer of Man-chester, had contracted a curious habit of swim-ming in the Rochdale Canal whenever he became drunk.

drunk.

Last Saturday he was seen distinctly the worse for liquor, and shortly afterwards his clothes were found on the banks and his dead body in the water.

DOGS AND DONKEY BEGGING.

Many dogs, to say nothing of a donkey, pleaded eloquently on behalf of the Dumb Friends League at the Queen's Hall yesterday afternoon. They went about with their fair owners, and their great pleading eyes extracted more money than all the witching glances and honeyed words of their mis-

The Queen's Hall was crammed. Princess Louise Augusta of Schleswig-Holstein was present. Mr. Arthur Roberts came on as an extra turn, and tea was dispensed afterwards by Mrs. George Alexander, Miss Lena Ashwell, Miss Elalaine Terriss, Miss Lily Hanbury, Miss Vane Featherstone, Miss Annie Hughes, and Miss Portescue. Mr. Louis Wain, the famous artist, sold many of his drawings and was commanded to the royal box to make rapid sketches of cats in the souvenir books of the Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein.

The most charming badges and souvenirs were Holstein.

The most charming badges and souvenirs were sold, and altogether the fête must have been financially a huge success.

MARKETING BY POST.

CREAM (clotted), 1s. 6d. lb., 2lb. 11d.-Mrs. Bath, Tug-i; try them.

ST try one Sirioin of Prime South American Beef, 8lb., sent carriage paid within 100 miles of London on upit of P.O. 5s. 3d. thy parcel post 3d. extral.—Edwin er, 59, Leadenhall Market, London. Est. 15 years

Octonham.

DRESS PARCEL IS A MARVEL OF ENTER;

2s. 6d. deposit, balance 1s. weekly; writeterns; no security or reference required.—H.

Son. Ltd., Credit Stores, 70, 72, 74, 78, and mit-rd. 3.F. The prices charged will only allow

Miss Santry, Strand, Rosenberg, CTRAWBERBLES, splendid fruit, 2lb. for 3s.; fine CTRAWBERBLES, splendid fruit, 2lb. for 3s.; fine CDR Control of the Control Bidd.

WHY not buy Good Bacon First-handed? Edward Miles, and a Bacon Factory, 47, Milket, Bristol, will send 400b, side of his edicions smoked at 55th, ser in, and manusked WILLIAM BOWRON'S NEW DEPARTURE.

OPENING of DEPOTO at Med. By, Stations, Opening of Depot at Marrow Station, Metropolitae Rail-prices, Families called upon daily for orders. Lendon, Opening of a new Depot at Finchley-road Station, Metropolitae Railway, Available of public without tickets.

Opening of a new Depot at Finchler-road Station, Mcfrepolitan Railway, Available to public without citets.

WILLIAM BOWNON:

SPECIALITIES for THIS WYEK.

Finest GRANGE for the State Lombardy Fresh
Butter, 1s.; Cornich Cream, 2s. 5d. per quart; large jar, 10d.; small; arg. 6d.; Spring Chickens, 2s. per coughe: Arge ditto, 2s. 5d. per couple; large Fowls, 4s. 6d. and 5s. per
- English Gentings, from 4s. 6d. Puckling, from 2s.; large Hares, 2s. 5d.; White Grouse: 10d. each.

Hampers for 10s. 6d. contains: (1) fills. Gree-quarter of Lamb and 2 good ducklings. (2) English Gening, 6lb. forguarter of Lamb, 1lb. Cornich Butter. (3) 6lb. leg of Lamb, and 1s. 2s. 5d.; Contains: (1) fills. Gree-quarter of Lamb and 2 good ducklings. (2) English Gening, 6lb. forguarter of Lamb, 1lb. Cornich Butter. (3) 6lb. leg of Lamb, Hampers for 10s. 6d. contains: (1) fills. leg of Lamb and 1 fine Duckling. (2) 1 large English Gening and 3 White Grouse. (3) 2 good Ducklings.
Orders of 5s. and upwards carriage paid United Kingdom.
WILLIAM BOWKON, Dept. M.). 279-283. Edgwarer dy,
VI. John Wood line, and Perringdon-street Sattion Gross
WILLIAM FITTER and CO.

WILLIAM FITTER and CO.

MARKET. E.C.

MARKET. E.C.

MARKET. E.C.

WILLIAM PITTER and CO.

MARKET. E.C.

MARKET. E.C.

WILLIAM PITTER and CO.

MARKET. E.C.

MARKET. E.C.

WILLIAM PITTER and CO.

WILLIAM FITTER and CO.
WILLIAM FITTER and CO. WILLIAM FITTER and CO.

Our selected New Zsaland lamb is perfection. Fore-outlied beef, with my lamb and the lamb and t

SITUATIONS WANTED.

Domestic.

A S Sister or Daughter, useful Lady, highly recommended, seeks position; kind, sympathetic.—Faith, 269, Stan-

As saver to broader the seam and the apparent control to the contr

SITUATIONS VACANT.

DETWENMAID wanded at once for country must have some experiency; seed at once for country must have some experiency; seed at once for country must have street Bureau, 49, New Bond-st, W.
CMEANION-HELP wanted for lady; 2, maids kept.—46, COME cingle-handed) wanted at once; very comfortable Apply to-day Mrs. D., 49, New Bond-st, W.
CONCENDERAL wanted for falt in town; 2 in family:
C wages £18-£20; easy place.—Call to-day Mrs. B., 45, New Bond-st.

New Bond-st, W.

KITCHENMAID (young) wanted at once for town; wages £12.£14.—Write Y. K., Bond-street Bureau, 45, New Bondst, W.

M AlD (useful) wanted at once; French-Swiss; good dressMarker; wages £24-£50.—Call Bondstreet Burean, 45,
New Bondst, W., to-day at 112.20-30; wages £18, £22.—
NURBE wanted at once; age 20-30; wages £18, £22.—
Wette V.N., Bondstreet Burean, 48, New Bondst W.

SERVANY (good); for small house; help given.—West Ball
Lodge, Mithoper-ti, Wosting

A BOOKLET sent gratis, showing a royal road to Short-hand acquisition, saving a year's study, and leading to lucrative appointments.—Sloan-Duployan Academy, Ramsgate.

ALL Seeking Employment write Guide, 4 stamps.—Smith, 75, Midfield-st, Rochampton. ENERGETIC Man, of good appearance, wanted, to solicit business for well-established firm; special terms to capable man.—Address N. N., 1,412, "Daily Mirror" Office, 2 Convenitiest, E.C.

a, cardeniest. E.O.

MEN and Women whiled to work our rapid Knitting Machines at their homes, making work for us to sell to the trade; no experience, no canvasing; steady work; good money sarned; dictance and consumption of the control of the con

Manchester.

Congression of the Congression of the

Other Small Advertisements on pages 2, 12, and 15,

NOTICES TO READERS.

ne Editorial, Advertising, and General Business nices of the Daily Mirror are:— 2, CARMELITE STREET, LONDON, E.C.

HONES: 1310 and 1319 Holborn. rest End Offices of the Daily Mirror are:—
46, NEW BOND-STREET, LONDON, W.
BONE: 1986 Gerrard.
Reflexed," London.
OFFICE: 28, Rue Tailbout.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily Mirror is sent direct by post to any part of the United Kingdom at the rate of 1d. a day (which includes postage), payable in advance; or it is sent for one for the postage of the postage of the payable in the postage of the payable in a for a year, 26s.

To subscribers abroad the terms are: Ror three months, 9s. 9d.; for six months, 19s. 8d.; for twelve months, 39s.; payable in advance.

payable in advance.

Remittances should be crossed "Barclay and Co., and made payable to the Manager, Daily Mirror.

Daily Mirror

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1904

ALL ROADS LEAD TO EPSCM.

Comparatively few people themselves see the Derby, but it is the topic of conversation all over England-to-day

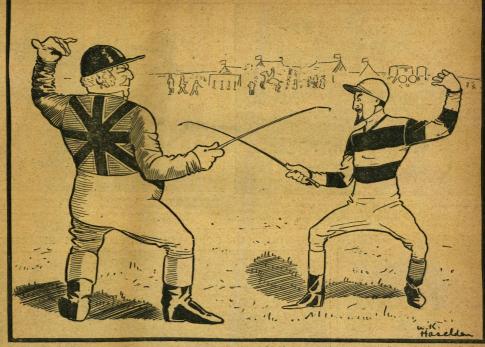

The race is peculiarly and unassailably popular. In the mid-Victorian era, when Mr. Frith's celebrated picture of the course was exhibited at the Royal Academy, an iron railing had to be placed before the canvas to prevent the crowd from damaging it. At that time the Derby was a great national carnival. Lord Dundreary and his fellows, attired in gauze veils, drove to Epsom on coaches, side by side with costermongers in their donkey carts; chaff was freely exchanged, and the coster and his lady-love were the chartered libertines of wit for the day. A love of sport levelled all social barriers. Nowadays the humours of the road are curtailed. A great many people go down by railway, and the parties which used to be given by owners of houses and villas along the road route no longer take place. But the coach, the brake, and the donkey-cart are still to be seen in hundreds on the Epsom road, while the motor-car is yearly increasing in evidence.

What our forefathers would have thought of the idea of a railway station at the worldknown Tattenham Corner is difficult to imagine. Sacrilege would probably have been their verdict. But the train service is a public convenience, and, although the railway robs the great national festival of much of its picturesqueness, the course asen is still the same happy hunting ground for gypsies, three-card trick experts, and plausible gentry of that kind. Granted that the weather is fine to-day's race will be a memorable one Should the French horse win, we must console ourselves with the reflection that we have taught the French nearly all that they know of horse-racing. And their knowledge is not inconsiderable.

The elaborate costume ball at the Albert The elaborate costume ball at the Albert Hall last night goes to prove once more what amazing things English people will do it the cause of charity. We, who are supposed to be a phlegmatic nation, would probably consent to stand on our heads in public if by doing so we were benefting a hospital. Ladies of the highest rank consent to pose in tableaux vivants; belted earls will disguise themselves in cardboard noses and false whiskers, and execute queer dances in public for sweet serves in cardooard noses and false whiskers, and execute queer dances in public for sweet charity's sake. This is all very praiseworthy and harmless. But does the charity for which all such pranks are performed always benefit to the fullest extent by them? That is the most important question.

It is generally very difficult to persuade a member of the British Government publicly to confess that he had made a mistake. General André, the French Minister of War, General André, the French Minister of War, however, when taxed upon the subject of his permissal of several hundred soldiers under his command to make a forced march in a hot sun for advertising purposes, frankly confessed that he was in the wrong, and accepted complete responsibility for the unfortunate occurrence. If General André has not actually established a procedure, has been of least recomplete responsibility for the unfortunate oc-currence. If General André has not actually established a precedent, he has at least re-minded us by his example that if one is in the wrong it is better to say so, and have done with it.

A FRIENDLY MATCH ON EPSOM DOWNS.

To-day England and France are cementing the entente cordiale yet more closely, for English sportsmen are welcoming a French rival who may capture the Blue Riband of the English Turf. If Gouvernant wins the Dorby to-day, Englishmen will rejoice that the victor is a Frenchman.

THIS MORNING'S GOSSIP.

Interest in the Kiel Regatta, where the King and j Interest in the Kiel Regata, where the King and Kaiser are to meet in the last week of this month, increases every day. No one who can possibly be there is likely to stay away, for the Kaiser means to make it one of the events of his regim. He has induced the King to prome that in one of the races he will sail with him of Meteor III., and no doubt he hopes to show that Germany, as well as Britannia, can doo something in the way of ruling the

That any definite political result is to be expected from the visit cannot be said. Yet it will almost from the visit cannot be said. Yet it will almost certainly have important consequences all the same. For the Emperor has been made "to think furiously" by the King's success in promoting the Anglo-French understanding, and he has no idea of seeing other nations come together, leaving Germany out in the cold. He had no idea that King Edward was such a skilful diplomatist. He is, indeed, one of those people who never recognise talent in anyone else without a shock of surprise. But he has learnt his lesson now and means to profit by it.

by it.

English opera cannot compare with German, French, and Italian work, and Mr. Manners has, at some expense, demonstrated that Londoners at least have come to recognise this. The patriot in search of consolation may be gratified to learn that English comic opera has been even more successful in Germany than serious German opera has here. Thousands of pounds were made by "The Geisha" in Germany, though the performances, to English eyes, were most comic. Having no light opera artists, the Germans made their grand opera companies play it, and the spectacle of portly prime donne and bulky baritones clumsily prancing about in their efforts to imitate the English companies was a sight for the gods. Imagine the Covent Garden stars playing in, say, "The Orchid," and you will have some idea of the effect.

The phrase, "the Blue Riband of the Turf," applied to the Derby, we owe, as we owe so many other forms of words which appealed to the imagination and secured instant acceptance, to Lord Beaconsfield. When Lord George Bentinck, who had sold his stud to devote himself to politics, heard that one of his horses had won the Derby for its new owner he buried his head in his hands and wept. Then, to excuse himself to "Dizzy" he murmured, "You don't know what the Derby is," "Oh, yes, I do," was the answer. "It is the blue riband of the English Turf." What Disraeli meant was that a sportsman thought of winning the blue riband of the English Turt." What Disraeli meant was that a sportsman thought of winning the Derby as a politician thought of receiving from his Sovereign the Order of the Garter, with its broad blue riband worn across the breast. Each was in its way the highest honour that could be aspired to.

At Ascot they refuse to have motor-cars on the racecourse. An official in discussing this decision said: "You see there is a rayal procession at Ascot. That is where the difficulty comes in." We should have thought, seeing how fond the King is of his motor-cars, that that was just where the difficulty vanished.

The Speaker will not be able to go to the Derby to-day. But as he sits in his magnificent chair in the House of Commons he will perhaps see in imagination the figure of his grandfather, John Gully, who once carried off the famous stakes, and who was also champion puglist of England. Think of it! The man who ever since his Cambridge days has been nicknamed "Courtly "Gully, the grandson of a prizefighter! Not that John Gully was an ordinary "bruiser" by any means. If he had been he would not have got into Parliament, or have made a huge fortune—or have won the Derby. But still he was at one time just a humble "professor," like the "Game Chicken" or the "Putney Pet."

If English people are cold and reserved, it is because they possess "that self-control which lends to social intercourse, dignity, security, and elegance." If they are hypocrites, well, at any rate that shows "they have a great respect for goodness." Such are the conclusions of a French viscount in an article upon us. One hardly knows whether to feel flattered or annoyed.

In spite of the news of the British success in Tibet, the Foreign Office is still very uneasy indeed about the safety of the expedition. It is realised now that a wrong view was taken of the probabilities at the outset. The number of troops sent is seen to have been inadequate, and the fear is that reinforcements may not arrive in time. What a fine fellow, by the way, must be the "Daily Mail" correspondent, Mr. Edmund Candler, who, having been almost cut up into little pieces by the Tibetans, can send home a letter saying their action was quite natural, and that he rather admires them for it!

The man in the street and the man in the studio are both glad to hear that the Chantrey Bequest administration is to be discussed in Patliament. The man in the street, without knowing much about it, has an unpleasant impression that the money which was left for the benefit of the nation is, to put it mildly, being injudiciously spent. He has been so often told by experts that members and associates of the Royal Academy have been unduly favoured, and the work of some of our finest artists neglected, that he will be glad to see the matter thrashed out. And the man in the studio, who has long been crying for reform, is relieved to hear that at last a move in the right direction is being made.

A MAN OF THE HOUR.

Mornington Cannon.

"I have no expensive tastes, unless you call hunting expensive, yet I cannot live under £5,000 a

This is what Morny Cannon, who will ride Gou-

This is what Morny Cannon, who will ride Gouvernant to-day, tells you quite frankly, and without a suspicion of "side." Fortunately, he can always make ($5,000 a year, and a good bit over, so he is belt to keep a fane style at Bletchley, with twelve hunters up a fine style at Bletchley, with twelve hunters up a fine style at Bletchley, with twelve hunters up a fine style at Bletchley, with twelve hunters up a fine style at Bletchley, with twelve hunters up a fine style and his father, the famous trainer, got the news just at the moment when he heard of the victory of a certain horse, trained by him and called Mornington. So oversjoyed was he that, in his excitement, he got a little mixed. He telegraphed to the owner of the winning horse that it was a boy and doing well, while Mrs. Cannon got a reply to her query, "What shall we call him?" the laconic instruction "Mornington."

That accounts for his name, and his father's teaching in part accounts for his skill in riding. He has been on a horse ever since he could hold the reins, and there is nothing you can teach him about any course in England. Four times he has cored more wins in a year than any other jockey on the Turf.

Turf.

'He is a most abstemious little man, or he could not be the brilliant rider he is. He never bets; and, as for cards, could scarcely tell one suit from another. He appreciates domesticity, and so does his wife-a mutual compliment which both are equally ready either to acknowledge or to pay.

QUESTION AND ANSWER.

[The "Mirror," while it cannot undertake to answer all questions, will select from those which it receives any which are of general public interest. Letters should be addressed "Question and Answer Depart-

What Is the Fastest Time in Which the Derby Has Ever Been Run?

It has never been done quicker than in Volo-dyovski's year (1901), when the time was 2min. 40 4-5sec. The average time is about three minutes. The distance is a mile and a half.

The One Necessary Word.

How we do waste time! I know a feller that went to college, an' when he come out th' professor said with pride that that chap had a vocabulary of six thousand words. An' yet I've found out that that feller died jest because he didn't know how to say no when he was asked to have a drink—From "An Old Salt's Observations," in "Judge," New York.

UNIQUE

FAMOUS DERBY JOCKEYS AND THE SCENE OF THEIR TRIUMPHS. Other Photographs of Horses and Jockeys are on Page 1.

All the world is interested in the great struggle for the Blue Riband of the English Turf at Epsom to-day. A general view of the course and stands, the scene of to-day's great race.

Johnny Osborne, "the Pusher," who rode Pretender, the Derby winner of 1869, is now a trainer in the North.

Harry Custance, who rode his last Derby winner (George Fre-derick) thirty years ago, is still a keen racegoer.

The much-malign

Engineer officers

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT INSPECTS HIS REGIMENT.

Miss Certrude Elliott, playing in the new play, "The Edge of the Storm," which is to be produced to-night at the Duke of York's Theatre—(Photo-graph by W. Barnett.)

Inspection of the 2nd Battalion of the Grenadier Guards by the Duke of Connaught, colonel-in-chief of the regiment—(Photograph by Gale and Polden.)

SOUTH AFRICAN CRICKET TEAM AT LORD'S.

J. J. Kotze, whose fast bowling for the South Africans was one of the features of the match against the M.C.C.

J. H. Sinclair, who did some splendid hitting for the South Africans, making two big hits into the pavilion.

The distress suffered by the 2,000 French soldiers who took part in the walking match at Paris is shown in the face of this man, second in the race. One soldier died, 35 are in hospital, and 42 are missing.

GRAPHS FROM THE FRONT. THE JAPANESE ADVANCE.

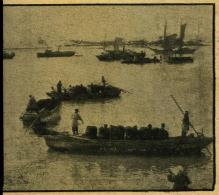

ese troops near Secul on their way to the fighting line.

anese horses being disembarked at Scoul.

ng the construction of a temporary bridge.

ese artillery horses at Chemulpho.

HERKOMER LEAVES BUSHEY.

Professor von Herkomer, R.A., has retired from the directorship of the famous art school which he founded at Bushey.—(Photograph by E. Mills.)

LAST NIGHT'S PLAY.

Miss Arabella Keneally, a dramatised version of whose novel, "Dr. Janet of Harloy-street," was played last night at the Victoria Hall, Bayswater.— (Photograph by Bassano.)

JOCKEYS IN TO-DAY'S DERBY. Other photographs of Horses and Jockeys are on page 1.

C. TRIGG.
Riding Mr. S. B. Joel's St. Denis.

W. LANE, Riding Mr. F. Alexander's Andover.

B. DILLON.
Riding Mr. James Buchanan's
Lancashire.

THE MAN WHO IS ATTACKING PORT ARTHUR.

General Baron Oku, Commander of the Japanese army which is attacking Port Arthur. In his advance he captured eighty-two Russian guns in the fighting near Kinchow, and has now occupied Dainy, about ten milea from the defences of Port Arthur,

NEW MINIATURE BISLEY OPENED.

Mrs. Buchanan, wife of the great whicky distiller, fires the first shot in the new miniature rifle range which has been built at Hendon for the employes of the firm by Mr. Buchanan,

CAREER ? SHOULD THE YOUNG WIFE RELINQUISH HER

A MOOT POINT.

THE BUSINESS GIRL AND MATRIMONY

To some men the idea of a woman in connection with business is abhorrent. They have good oldfashioned notions that a woman's proper place i at the helm of domestic life, and that any interests outside its walls are quite beyond her province Yet in this twentieth century the business woman manages to make herself essential in the office.

So the question crops up. What of the business girl as a wife? Men may on principle dislike the fact that women work; I am sure it is very noble of them to do so, yet, despite their opposition, they fall in love with them. They learn, too, to appre ciate the woman who, schooled in lessons of struggle and hardship, knows the value of money.

Nor is the working girl the worse for her ex perience, for in her turn she can estimate at its She knows what it is to come home with a racking headache after a worrying day in town, and when "he" calls upon her in the evening she has a easy chair ready, and is quite content to let him rest silently if he wishes to do so. Later on I will talk the day over with her, and tell her al his worries, knowing she will understand the exac state of affairs, and probably help him to unrave the difficulty.

Jealous of His Wife's Success.

This is as it should be; and when the engagement ends in marriage the happy bushand will fire his bittle wife is seady and willing to help him it his business by every means in her power. And should it become necessary to curtail the house hold expenditure for a time, she herself will be the first to suggest it. She will not grumble and be angry because business matters fluctuate—not at all, for she understands the money market herself, and knows that the embarrassment is no fault of her, but and's.

Now, there are two, tiles.

her huband's.

Now, there are two sides to every picture, and the one I have just briefly sketched is certainly the lappy one; but the contrast must be looked at, too; and just for a moment we will consider the position of a girl who has ambitions for her career, but is engaged to a man who does not approve of a woman an connection with business life at all. Such a case is by no means unique, and Angelina finds herself face to face with, a problem in which ambition and love are the conflicting elements.

Hard to Relinquish Her Career.

Mare to Relinquish Her Career.

Probably the git has toiled hard for years, and secured for herself a position—say in literature, the drama, art, or music, as the case may be. She is ambitious, and longs to make a name in the profession she has chosen; but her lover steps between her and lame, and says he does not intend to let his wife work.

All the past years of toil are to count for nothing, and she is to cast her chances to the wind because eithin jealousy makes Edwin object to her carrying out a career which may land her above him on the hadder of Jame. He demands the sacrifice of the he had planned out for brestle esh end with the sacrifice of the complete renunciation of the life she had planned out for brestle esh her bearing with a woman's maganamous unselfishness, too often gives way, and wenches herself from the work that had almost become a vital element in her life.

her life. Would it not be far more manly, and be a surer not of love, if the man who cares for a business of the man who cares for a business of the life. The work? Physically, a woman is man's terior; consequently she is not so able to battle the competition that exists in every professor as he is. Herein lies his power—for he can, he will, smooth out some of the winkles in her e and clear many of the sharpest pebbles from rapth.

r path.
It seems a pity that a woman's talents for earng money and fame should be statisfied by marge, that is to say, if they can be fostered witht detriment to the happiness of the home, which these days of many available aids to easy living, that as hotel and flat life, is quite a likely possi-

POWDER

Completely supersedes the use of Eggs in the preparation of High-Class. Custard—Greatly increases the popularity of all Sweet Dishes—The unfailing resource of every successful hostess.

Rich in Nutriment-Delicate in Flavour NO EGGS! NO RISK! NO TROUBLE!

FASHIONS FINGER POSTS.

LITTLE RED AND WHITE COATEES.

So strangely inconstant is an English June that So strangely inconstant is an English June that the dressmakers are doing well to revive the little occasional coat of white cotton or scarlet serge, that crops up from time to time as an adjunct of Red, which is just a tone away from vermilion, and lavender, which has a suggestion of blue about it, are decorated with cross-bar effects in black or white, or both. Dots help to render the cross-bar yet more strikingly memories of the past.

Many of the champagne tan suède shoes, which the summer gown. Very jaunty and charming it pointed toes is very marked at present, and the

The full-length toilette illustrated above is as elegant as it is simple, and would look exceedingly well carried out in mole-coloured voile. A chemisette and cuffs of lemon-tinted mousseline would make the gown look cool and charming, and in the brown hat two ostrich feathers would figure, one lemon-colour, the other (at the back) lavender, to introduce another suggestion of colour into the scheme. A delightful little white bolero is shown in the half-length picture.

It will be seen in the picture as the accompaniment of a muslin or lines.

A white, sleeveless bolero, too, is a movelty. It will be seen in the picture as the accompaniment of a manue batiste dress and trimmed as it is with manue silk ribbon stitched to it firmly, strikes a mote of welcome rapprochement between itself and the gcwn.

A June bride has announced her intention of having her veil arranged in a most original and very becoming manuer. It is to be of tulle, and will so be pleated about the head that a double edge of it will stand up like a crown inside a groceful wreath of orange blossoms.

Blossom taffens is making its appearance. A liking for quaint tints and colour combinations has been added to the fancy for old-time effects.

Square toe is beginning to look really remarkable, and not admirably so.

Fashion always runs to extremes, and so is addied the mask, the the popular of the popular will will will be certain in the victim to drink an actual repugnance of the world upon abstince, for it produces the wonderful result will will will be an admirably as the time of the world upon abstince, for it produces the wonderful result will will will be an accompaniment to receive the world upon abstince, for it produces the wonderful result will be such as a circular will will will be and surface and short noses, to whom the face to work the world upon abstince, for it produces the wonderful result will will will be and surface and short noses, to whom the face to work the will will will be an administer it to him will be and will stand up the accompaniment to the produce the world upon abstince, for it produces the will upon a but the hearing

Mdme. DOWDING.

The Dowdinian "LA FRANCE," GENT.'S BELTS AND CORSETS A SPECIALITY.

From 21/- to Six Guineas.

FARADAY HOUSE, 8 & 10, Charing Cross Road.

'COMPLEXINE" positively removes. Wrinkles, Black-neads, Pimples, etc., and guarantees you a youthful and

Prepared by the M. GRAFTON TOILET COMPANY, 21; Heddon-st. (two-doors from Regent-st.), London, W.

Supplied on Easy Terms from 6/- per Month.

Enjoying the use of same while it is being paid.
Designs Post Free. W. J. HARRIS & Co.,

51, Rye Lane, Peckham, London, and Branches

NO MORE DRUNKENNESS

A Sample Packet of the marvellous Coza will be Sent, free of Charge, to every applicant.

administered in coffee, tea, spirits, or olid food. without the intemperate's <

THE IDOL OF NEW YORK.

Mr. Tom Browne's Impressions of the American Girl -How He Met "Mr. Dooley."

"Let us talk of America and the wonderful things you saw and heard there," remarked the Mirror representative yesterday to Mr. Tom Browne, the well-known black and white humorous artist, who has just returned to London after a artist, who has just returned to London after a two-month's holiday on the other side.

"With pleasure," said "T. B.," adding that it was quite the finest holiday of his lifetime.

"Of course you know that I had for companion my friend Mr. Lance Thackeray. Which reminds me of a funny incident I may as well mention

Six interviewers bade us welcome in the usual way, and everyone of them had a brilliant idea ready for Thackeray. The same question was asked scores of times wherever we went, until we used to watch for it coming and then bewilder the interviewers by laughing.

Peach of a Story.

"It was this: 'Are you a descendant of the great man of letters, William Makepeace Thackeray?' One New York journalist adde i,

A down-town typewriter,

I hope you will do me the favour of saying you are. It will make such a peach of a story

"Mr. Thackeray said he was sorry he could not claim kinship, but for the benefit of this interviewer he remarked that he was born in the same county -Yorkshire

"That was enough for the 'peach of a story." With amazing ingenuity the interviewer, in next morning's paper, argued that Mr. Thackeray's genealogical tree spring from the same soil as that of the great English novelist, and, though the artist had time to look into his pedigree, it was practically certain that he was a branch of the Makepeace Thackeray family tree. It almost convinced Lance himself.

"If only my name had been Shakespeare," said Tom Browne, "think of the fame and the fun I'd have had. No man need tell me hereafter that there's nothing in a name.'

Policeman's Chivalry.

We hastened to talk of the American girl, who, Nothing else, he said, would tempt a policeman to step among the traffic in Broadway, but the gallant impulse of escorting a pretty girl across the street. If she be surpassingly pretty, and the policeman be an Irishman, as most New York policemen are, then he may take her in his arms and carry her to a place of safety. What a picture for a painter—Chivalry carrying Beauty out of Chaos!

"I was disappointed," said Mr. Browne, "by never seeing a policeman club anybody. I concluded they were half-asleep, and invited friend Mr. Browne observed, is idolised by the Americans. Nothing else, he said, would tempt a policeman Thackeray to pinch one in the leg and risk th consequences. I may stand a better chance of a clubbing next time I visit New York.

"Before I leave the American girl let me say that I expect some day to see her immortalised in stone as the figure-head of the grandest monuin stone as the agreement in America.

"I really think the Statue of Liberty should be devoted to her. She is a fluent—O! so fluent—conversationalist; she dresses with faultless taste; her figure might serve as a model to her sex the world over; but when all her praises are sung, she will forgive me when I say that my natural prejudices compel me to yield the palm to the English girl. Of course, I never dare say that in New

The young school.

York. Indeed, I don't think the sub-editors would have allowed me. And I did not want to go to have allowed mer and an infirmary.

From the American girl to Mr. Dana Gibson, who has created her in black and white, was a natural turn for conversation to take. Mr. Browne met Mr. Gibson in a curious way.

Intelligent Critic.

At one of the numerous little lunch parties arranged by the proverbial American hospitality, Mr. Browne had a gentleman on his right who talked rather intelligently about art.

"You appear to take an interest in black-and-white drawing," or words to that effect, said Mr.

Browne.

"Oh, yes," was the quiet reply. "I know a good many American and English artists."
"I did not catch your name," said "T. B."
"Gibson," replied his neighbour.
"Gibson," Gibson, Not Dana Gibson,"
"The same," said the artist-father of the Gibson girl, whereat a queer feeling came over Mr. Browne.

Mr. Dooley."

"Be good enough," requested "T. B.," "to and the second s

The old school.

PUBLIC DECLARATION.

VHEN YOU ASK FOR "SCOTCH"

ASK FOR

Mackie's "White Horse"

We Pledge Our Reputation On Our Quality.

EVERYBODY who has ever tasted more than one brand of Scotch Whisky—"WHITE HORSE" being one of them—will tell you that "WHITE HORSE" is the best.

That is a brave assertion to make in these days when there are so many really good Scotch Whiskies on the market.

Still, the reputation of a firm which was first established in 1742 is behind the statement, and it goes for all such a reputation is worth.

For the last time in this manner we will suggest to you that when you ask for Scotch Whisky you ask for "WHITE HORSE," for the asking shows the dealer that you do know which is the best, and you may depend that he knows, as well as you do, that it is useless to try to give you any that he might say is "Just as Good."

The beauty of "WHITE HORSE" is that there is none other "Just as Good," for it has a taste "rare and velvety" that is peculiarly

After to-day this asking is to be left entirely to you, for from now on the distillers have determined to rely entirely upon the quality of "WHITE HORSE" to maintain their trade.

By giving the finest quality of any Brand in the Market, we have proved that the British Public can appreciate good Whisky when they are offered it.

But, to be honest, we cannot continue advertising on the same scale, and at the same time give our present high quality. Heavy expenditure in the long run must come out of quality.

If we lower our quality we know we shall lose our trade. We make this public declaration of maintaining our present high standard, and trust to the British Public for support:

Anyone selling inferior Whisky for "WHITE HORSE" will be prosecuted.
No action will be compromised.

Messrs. Mackie & Co. appreciate that the public were never better supplied with Scotch Whisky than at the present time, and they need no telling that the premier position has always been, and always will be, held by their "WHITE HORSE" brand. Comparison will amply prove this. Just try it for yourself.

Ask for "WHITE HORSE" when you want Scotch Whisky.

ASK FOR MACKIE'S

"WHITE HORSE" SCOTCH WHISKY

The Carlton Hotel and Restaurant.
Prince's Hotel and Restaurant.
Royal Palace Hotel, Kensington.
The Berkeley Hotel | Hotel Cecil. Claridge's Hotel. Imperial Rest. Bolton Hotel. Holborn Rest. Romano's. The Savoy Hotel.

Langham Hotel.
Dean's Hotel.
Hotel Continental.
Frascati's Rest.
Anderton's Hotel.
Hatchett's Rest.

Spiers & Pond, Ltd. Hotels, and all their Branches.

Great Northern Railway Hotel, and at all G.N. Refreshment Bars.

IF YOU WANT THE BEST SCOTCH

Lagavulin Distillery, ESTABLISHED Island of Islay, Argyllshire. GLENLIVET, GLASGOW and LONDON.

DERBY THAT RUINED A PEER.

How Hermit Won in a Snowstorm in 1867, and Broke Lord Hastings's Heart.

Of all the races ever run for the Derby Stakes surely the most sensational and the most tragical was that of Hermit in 1867, when even the elements in the shape of a blinding snowstorm fought against the success of the winner.

Lord Hastings stole a bride from Mr. Henry Chaplin in 1864. Mr. Chaplin's revenge came Chaplin in 1894. Mr. Chaplin's revenge come three years later, when his horse Hermit won the Derby. In his book, "Kings of the Turf," "Thormanby" tells how Lady Florence Paget, who was affianced to Mr. Chaplin, drove up to Swan and Edgar's on July 16, 1864, with Mr. Chaplin, how she went in at one door of the establishment and out at another into the arms of Lord Hastings, who was in waiting in a hansom cab. We can imagine the amazement of Mr. Chaplin, who, waiting with her chaperon in the carriage, found that Lady Florence did not retura, and eventually learned how neatly she had eluded them both and had gone off with Lord Hastings. From the opening of the wagering Lord Hastings laid against Hermit. He had a most elastic book, and, being at deadly fead with the owner of the son of Newminster, he did not close is when the Danebury champion, having broken a blood-wessel, was knocked out to "any price you like." There was, however, a Nemesis in store for the Marquiss Older hands entered him to consider his position, but without avail, though it was probably more in enmity of Mr. Chaplin, was probably more in enmity of Mr. Chaplin, and although a wonderful Ascot for the Danebury three years later, when his horse Hermit won the

than according to the dictates of his judgment, that Lord Hastings in and out of season never refused to lay the odds when a desire to back Hermit was manifested in his presence; and in the end he stood to lose an oless a sum than £103,000, a fair proportion of this amount being laid at odds of 40 to 1.

Helicentic never started for the Blue Riband. One authority summed him up as "a lean, wasted-away, chestnut, very good behind the saddle, and all head before it," and Mr. Allem McDonough, the famous steeplechase rider, declared "he would not give more than 18 sows, for him at a fair." The wintry surroundings brought out Hermit's mean appearance in even holder relief, and Lord Hastings, thinking his bets were as good as won, refused to cover any of his liabilities, as he might well have done after the paddock inspection. Hermit, however, proved very much alive in the actual race, and, after a brief struggle, James Daley landed him a gallant winner by a neck from Marksman, with Vauban, who had won the "Two Thousand," but stood very straight in front, and could not act down the hill, a very moderate third.

losses was, it was said, recovered, Lord Hastings was surely but gradually going to his ruin. At Doneaster the Marquis was a good winner over Achievement in the St. Leger, and won the Filly Stakes with Athena and a Handicap Sweepstukes with Minnie Warren. These successes, however, were but putting off the evil day.

A bad back-end brought the crash nearer. Lord Hastings had set his heart on winning the Middle Park Plate and a fortune with Elizabeth. She came in a bad fifth. He had lost £50,000, and for the first time in his career staggered and turned pale. Maria Marchioness of Aylesbury, states "Thormanby," hastily thrust her bettingbook into his hand, and, pretending she was deeply agitated by her own losses, whispered, 'Tell me how I stand.'"

A Nerve Tonic.

It was the stimulus required, and Lord Hastings

A Nevve Tonic.¹

It was the stimulus required, and Lord Hastings instantly recovered his nerve, looked down the book, and replied, "You have lost 283.¹

After Hermit's victory Lord Hastings drove away from the course in a barouche and four with a party of friends, the gayest of the gay, and none who saw him would have dreamed he had lost a fortune. To pay his losses he had to part with his fine Scottish estates of Loudous for £300,000. His agents on the settling day were the first to present themselves at Tattersall's, and every claim was paid At Ascot the ring cheered this gilded "plunger," but the next year, at Epsom, he was hooted, for the twelve months had completed the crash, and Lord Hastings owed them £40,000.

On the 11th of November, 1868, Lord Hastings, a broken-down wreck of a man, twenty-six years of age, died of a broken heart, and just before he passed away he said to an intimate friend "Hermit fairly broke my heart. But I did not show it, did 1? This is the story of the most sensational Derby on record, and by it perhaps the adage that "A fool and his money are soon parted " was dramatically illustrated.

ically illustrated.

There was a ring at the bell, Elsie started to her feet.
"It is Maurice," she said, turning her white tearless face to her mother. "I—I want to see him below?"

tearless rine.

As Elsie had surmised, it was Maurice Strange.

As Elsie had surmised, it was Maurice Strange.

The maid showed him into the drawing room. He came in with a smile on his bronzed, handsome face; then the sight of Elsie's white dreary face struck him with a sudden dismay.

"Who little woman what on earth's wrong?"

face; then the sight of Elsie's white dreary face struck him with a sudden dismay.

"Why, little woman, what on earth's wrong?" he cried quickly, going up to her.

"Maurice," she began, "striving to keep calm, but she broke down in the effort, "Oh, Maurice, how can't cell youe—"?"

"Tell me what, little girl?" he asked, drawing her genly to him. But she freed herself.

"Maurice," she said, trying to speak bravely, "when I said I would be your wife, I didn't know that it was impossible—"

"Impossible?" he choed blankly. "Nonsense, little 'un!"

"It is true. I can't marry you now—because it would only be bringing disgrace upon you—" she faltered.

"What are you driving at, Elsie? Disgrace? That's all nonsense, you know! You've promised to marry me, and I'm not going to let you cry off!"

"But-oh, Maurice, when you asked me to marry you, I-I knew that my father was-you

HOUSES AND PROPERTIES.

Houses, Offices, Etc., to Let.
COTTAGE (furnished); also house; yachting and fishing

MIDSUMMER DAY.—Let this be the last quarter-on which you have rent to pay.—Apply at once card or letter, mentioning this paper, for illustrated be let, which fully oxplains "How to Live Rout Free," Manager, 72, Bishopsgatest Without E.C.

BUSINESSES FOR SALE & WANTED. GOOD Hairdresser's Business for Sale. -Apply Taylor Bros.,

HOLIDAY APARTMENTS TO LET AND WANTED.

BOARD-RESIDENCE, City gentleman or tamily, in Deantiful country house, 4 acres own grounds; lated danaer, good cooking; 14 mites from London, 5 minutes (Kent., motor tabiling, pony terp.—8, Hainault, Erita, Kent., motor tabiling, pony terp.—8, Hainault, Erita, Kent.

Rent.

Brighton, — Johnnesburg Boarding Establishment,
Brighton, — Johnnesburg Boarding Establishment,
Brighton, — Johnnesburg Boarding Establishment,
Brighton, — Johnnesburg Boarding, Establishment,
Folks, 15, Langhornegdin, Leas. Stamp.

GREAT YARMOUFH.—Garibaidi Hotel, for gentlemen a moderate terms; liberal table—Fowen, Proprietor. G moderate serms; liberal tables—Powell, Proprietor.

M patient pmedical genderman has vacancy for resident.

M patient in his large house in pretty country village; trap and man kept; separate room; references if required—Write 1242, "Dally Mirror," 45, New Bondett, W. PUBRICULLAR Casses received at farmhouse in Morfolk; propriets of the proprietor of BRIGHTON APARTMENTS.

Between WEST and NEW PIER.

CASTLE HOTEL,
MIDDLE-STREET, BRIGHTON.

PRICES EXCEEDINGLY MODERATE.

BED and BREAKFAST from 4s. 6d., or 7s. 6d. per day FULE BOARD.
SATURDAY to MONDAY 12s. 6d.
Weekly Boarders 35s.
Good Coffee Beom and Saloon Bar.
Wildo to secure rooms to CASTLE HOTEL, Middle-st, BRIGHTSO.

BOARD RESIDENCE & APARTMENTS.

COMFORTABLE Board-Residence, lady's house, close Tube; good cook; bath, smoking-rooms; moderate terms.—22, Norland-sq, Holland Park. WimbleBon.—Private pension; highly recommended: terms from 25s.—Brantwood, 84, Worple-rd.

Other Small Advertisements on pages 2, 6, and 15.

REDDING'S Celebrated ANTI-RHEUMATIC RING.

The Original and the Only Genuis ELECTRO-MAGNETIC RING

IN EXISTENCE.

As sold by H. J. REDDING for upwards of 30 years. A NEVER FAILING CURE for Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Anamia, Insomnia, Depression, etc., etc.

Depression, etc., etc.

Prices in all sizes, gold plated, 2/6 and 4/6; in solid 18-ct. gold, 21/- each. Full descriptive pamphlet and size gauge post free on application to the Sole Proprietors, H. J. REDDING and CO., 3, Argyll-place, London, W.

BIRKBECK BANK

Current Accounts. 2 p.c. Interest allowed on minimum monthly balances when not drawn below £100.

Buildings, High Holborn, W.C.

THE CHARING CROSS BANK. Est, 1870

119 and 130, Bishopsgalo-st, Within, E.G. and 28, Bedford-street, Charing Cross, W.C.) London Assats, £597,790 Liabilities, £285,890, Surplus £512,110, 24, per cent. allowed on current

OUR SERIAL.

Stage-Struck. By SIDNEY WARWICK.

CHAPTER XLVI. (continued)

"What is it that the paper boys are shouting?" cried Elsie, as another ran past.
"The death of a certain company promoter, a man called Percival Osmond," said Janet slowly Janet stopped the coachman and bought a paper She read the little item of news with feverish eager.

Janet stopped the coachman and bought a pones. She read the little item of news with feverish cagerness.

"Mr. Percival Osmond, who bolted from England immediately before the prosecution of the directors of the Beulah Mining Co., in connection with which a warrant was subsequently issued against him, was traced to a New York hotel, where he was staying under an assumed name, by Detective-Inspector Gauld. Osmond committed anicide this morning at the moment of his arrest."

The man was dead whose letter was in her pocket, the letter that had informed her she was not Herbert Daventry's wife, that Elise had legally no name. The man was dead, and his threat of ultimately publishing the fact to the world, keeping it back only until he heard that the daughter of the woman on whom he sought revenge was engaged to be married, was a spent bullet that had fallen harmlessty. Death had intervened to seal his lips. The man was dead, and the secret he had threatened to reveal dead with him, and everything was changed. She was still the sport of Fate. The choice was placed in her hands again; the sacrifice of her own happiness or that of Elsie. Janet stole a glance at the girl's radiant face. It was easy to guess where Elsie's thoughts were at that moment. Janet wondered dully whether she could have found the courage to pluck this chance of happiness out of her own life that her daughter; happiness was bound up in him; how could she speak the words that would shive that fairty palace? The story of Herbert Daventry's two marriages must be kept a secret to dee end. Fate demanded a sacrifice; since Osmond's death had left her the power to suppress the fact that would have given her back her freedom the sacrifice must be her own.

Before she went to the theatre that evening Janet Desborough wrote and posted the letter that 'she her cwn.

Before she went to the theatre that evening Janet Desborough wrote and posted the letter that she knew would finally send John Gray to—the other

Elsie jumped up and ran into the hall as she teard the rattle of letters falling into the box and he double rap of the postman. She paused for vsecond to glance at her reflection in the long nirror; was not Maurice coming that afternoon, and what woman when her lover is coming is not unknows to feet that she is looking her best? "Yes, I think Maurice will think that I look lice," the girl told herself, after a moment's critical inspection of the slender figure in the grey tress, spiashed at the throat and wrists with old rish lace, that the one person who filled her houghts had said he liked.

Elsie brought the letters into the drawing-room.

"One of them is for you, mother," she cried. I wonder who my correspondent can possibly

"I wonder who my correspondent can possible?"
Her mother's letter was from Ethel Ormistead. The hand that held the letter trembled a little as Janet saw the writing. She felt that she could guess before opening it what news it would contain. She opened it and read the few lines; then sat staring blankly in front of her, with the note crumpled in her clenched hand. She had expected this news of course; yet a sudden feeling of impotent rebellion against circumstances rose up forcedy in her.

potent rebellion against circumstances rose up fercely in her.

With her thoughts mingled a sudden feeling of bitterness against John Gray. As he had warned her he should, he had asked Ethel Ormistead to marry him. How like a man that was, ran her bitter reflection. He loved her, he had loved her for eighteen years; only his love had not been unselfish enough to keep him from seeking consolation elsewhere; how like a mar!

A sudden cry from Elsie broke in upon her thoughts:

thoughts:
"Mother!"

"Mother!"
The voice was unlike Elsie's; it was sharp with a note of fear. Janet looked up quickly.
"Mother, is it true that—that my father has been in prison?"
Janet looked across at Elsie, startled and dumb.
She had hoped that that shameful episode could be kept from her daughter; with the news of Percival

The writers of our new serial, "The Premier's Daughter," beginning on Saturday, have just published a novel, "The Shukamite." All the papers have had something to say about it. "Who are Alice and Claude Askew?" one of them asks, "Their novel is a fine performance, whether a first or twenty-first book"; "Original in plot and powerful in treatment"; "An astonishingly mature piece of work for two new-comers"; "May well be placed on the same shelf as Olive Schreiner's Classical Story of a South African Farm, so powerfully does it reveal to the untravelled mind the unutterable sadness of the life of the veldt," are some of the comments. The "Sunday Sun" reviewer "hopes to see others from the same pen."

He will, if he takes in the "Daily Mirror" regularly! Remember Saturday next.

Osmond's death she had felt secure in her hope. She could not find words to answer.

"But, of course, it's true," went on the girl; all the animation and brightness had faded from her face; "he would not have written like this fit is were not true."

Janet walked swiftly over to her.

"Who has told you?" she cried. She took the letter from the girl's hand; she recognised the writing at once. Elsie's correspondent was Herbert Daventry. "Why has he dared to write to you?"

you?"
"You may read his letter," said the girl wearily; then she added almost passionately: "Mother, you had no right to keep this back from me!"
"But I wanted to spare you the pain! God knows, I thought it was for the best. I hoped—I believed you would never learn the shameful story—" believed you would never learn the shameful story—"

"Oh, it would have been kinder to tell me the truth!" the girl broke out. "Can'e' you see, it wan't fair to let me engage myself to Maurice in ignorance of this—it wan't fair to him. She buried her face in her hands; a storm of see that the story of th saw yourself what he was the first day we met. I I had not seen him before since I was a child. I knew that he and my mother lived apart, that he drank. I thought that was the worst. But it was not. I did not know until to-day that he had been—in prison, she said, her eyes not daring to look into his face.

"You see now why—why I am forced to give you your freedom." As she spoke she began slowly to pull off the ring he had placed on her finger.

But before she could remove it her hand was a fast prisoner in his.

"You would give me up because of that?" he cried, with a gay laugh. "Is that all your trouble, sweetheart?"

"Don't be a goose, little woman!" he cried, drawing her closer to him in spite of her resistance. When I asked you to be my wife, I knew all about your father, even what you have told me now. And since it made no difference to my wanting you to be my wife then, do you think I'll let it crop up now to separate us?"

She turned her face up to his swiftly; a sudden gleam of light came into the sad eyes; a little sob caught her breath.

"You knew—Maurice—you knew all the time? You are not saying it out of pity for me?"

To be continued to-morrow.

HUMOURS OF DERBY DAY.

BY ROAD TO EPSOM.

FACETIOUS COSTER (to Jenkine, whose hireling has bolted): That's the ticket, during—keep him going—and you'll be in time for the first race!—(From "Punch.")

"Wot's the matter, Chawley?"
"Matter! See that hinnercent babby there? 'E's got 'lipeckets full of Tin Tacks!"—(From Punch.")

THE DERBY AS SEEN BY PHIL MAY.

CHAPPIE (whose fancy has lost by a nead): well, anyhow,
I've had a run for my money.
WELSHERS: Nothin', my boy, to the run you'd 'ave 'ad if 'e'd

Sketches of scenes and characters on Epsom Downs.— (From the "Pall Mail Budget.")

YOU PAY for a Watch, a Ring, a Clock, or Article of Personal Adornment or Home Decoration you buy.

H. SAMUEL'S BIG CATALOGUE

nas 3,000 picture proofs of this statement.
You can get a copy free and post paid simply by asking for it. For instance, you can buy a Solid Silver Lever Watch, the "Acme," for 25/-; a watch that an ordinary jeweller would ask 22 Ss. for without blushing. See page 13. But get a catalogue and see the bargains for yourself. It's a grand big book that will interest you.

H. SAMUEL, 83, Market St.,

BORWICK'S THE BEST DOWDER POWDER THE WORLD. POWDER

-249-250, TOTTENHAM COURT RD

AN INTERNATIONAL DERBY.

The King Sees His Horse, Rosemarket, Beaten in the Woodcote Stakes-Lord Rosebery's Victory.

WILL GOUVERNANT WIN?

descending in torrents yesterday morning for the opening of the Epsom meeting. There was no prospect of improvement, so tuousands of intending visitors deferred the outing in the hope that Derby day, the great national fête in the racing world, would be favoured with more genial weather.

The King, attended by Captain Holford, and accompanied by Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, travelled down by special train from Victoria Station, and arrived on the course before the toria Station, and arrived on the course centre the numbers were hoisted for the first race. It was koped that the Queen and Princess of Wales would also honour the meeting, but the wretched weather probably accounted for the altered arrangements.

The King's Candidate.

The King's Candidate.

His Majesty, seated for most of the alternoon in the royal box, came down later on to the Jockey Club enclosure, and from that position watched the race for the Woodcote Stakes. It proved an intensely interesting coatest. The royal colours were carried by Rosemarket, a handsome chestnut coli whose previous form scarcely warranted us to appreciate his chance so much, while Cicero was in the field. Lord Rosebery was present to see Cicero run, and Mr. Leopold de Rothschild occupying his usual place in front of the Press-box was sanguine that Khammurabi would at least-beat all but Lord Rosebery's candidate.

"Even" money was taken about Cicero, and Sir John Thursby's Standen and Mr. L. Neumann's Llangibby were quoted at shorter tates than any of the others. Rosemarket was quickes to begin when the barrier was raised—and at such good pace as to hold a clear lead in the first hundred yards. Herbert Jones rode him on a line quite close to the rails, and came down the hill and around Tattenham Corner with truly remarkable daring and skill. The lead was maintained right up the straight, and in such style that the spectators felt prepared for a royal victory. Meanwhile Cicero who had commenced slowly, held about sixth berth among the troop, but improved the position on reaching the corner, and when fairly in the straight galloped through to the head-of the field. The cold dispossessed Rosemarket, and was himself immediately challenged by Khammurabi, but the latter could not get up, and Cicero scored by the parts of a length.

"A Perfect Picture."

"A Perfoct Picture,"

Lord Rosebery has before now tasted the sweets of victory in the Woodcote Stakes, as he won eleven years ago with Ladas, and three years later with Chelandry. The first-named was desimed afterwards to win the Derby, while Chelandry took the One Thousand. Thus there is no reason why Cicro should not follow in their footsteps, as the son of Cyllene and Gas is a beautifully built coth, being full of quality. And as one well-known breeder remarked on his returning to the unsaddling eaclosure, "Cicro is a perfect picture of the control of Desiree's Improvement.

Desires's Improvement.

Lord Wolverton's filly by Rightaway—Fuji Yama had made a hit over the Epsom course at the Spring Meeting, but she has done nothing of credit since, and in the Wallington Plate made very little of her. Desiree has evidently come on by leaps and bounds since her third to Vedas at Kempton Park, whereas the Fuji Yama filly has not improved a bit. The pair almost monopolised the market, but in the race Desiree had the game all to herself, and won in a canter from Simonstown and Nuncastle, but Lord Wolverton's filly was eased when pursuit of Desiree in the last furlong was hopeless.

There was a lot of money for the field, bear on.

ased when pursuit or Desired in the last broad Tax shopeless.

There was a lot of money for the Irish-bred The grant hopeless.

There was a lot of money for the Irish-bred The grant hopeless.

There was a lot of money for the Irish-bred The grant hopeless. There was a lot of the Norbury Plate, and he soon caded the market from Sun Bonnet, Catscradle, and Wild Lad; while Wild Willow received very much in the quotations. The Duke of Portland's well-known jacket was lone by Caro, and that horse got left at the post and figured as whipper-in what time The trowed's brilliant silks were seen on the leader for fully a mile of the Derby course. Wild Lad as in close attendance, and in the straight took burnmand, to win in a canter from Sun Bonnet, who

It was a grievous disappointment to find the rain descending in torrents yesterday morning for the opening of the Epsom meeting. There was no proposed to find the rain of the Epsom meeting. There was no proposed to find the rain of the the rain of Red Wing II. colt Falls.

The Buke of Devonshire remained to the very last to see how Red Wing II. colt would run in the Epsom Plate. That candidate was not as well-backed as Extradition, but neither of the pair went well at any stage of the race, which was won from end to end by the north-country trained Otherwise.

To-day is big with the fate of the Derby Stakes, and the excitement grows all the greater inasmuch as the French candidate, Gouvernant, is now recognised as the most dangerous opponent sent over from France for many a year. The colt has made a host of friends since his arrival at Epsom, and the change of stables and environment do not in the least affect his well-being. M. Blanc, his owner, and his trainer, R. Denman, express themselves right pleased with Gouvernant's condition, and as they know his capacity no fear is entertained of his failure. Our own critics are much impressed with the style of this son of Flying Fox. In fact, the more seen of him, the more impressive he grows to the critics. This healthy sort of acquaintance is also marked in the opinion of ... Cannon, who says Gouvernant is a really good horse.

The following is the list of probable starters and

The following is the list of probable starters and

The following is the list of probable starters and joickeys.

Mr. F. Alexanier's ANDOVER, by Right.

Mr. J. Blanc's GOUVERNANT, by Flying.

Mr. J. Buchanas's LANGABHIRE, by Kingst.

Mr. J. Buchanas's LANGABHIRE, by Kingst.

Mr. Loopoid de Rothschild: ST. AMANT, by Kingst.

Mr. Loopoid de Rothschild: ST. AMANT, by K. Canaon

Mr. J. Thursbyr JOHN O' GAUNT, by Ling distributed belse members of the members of th

SELECTIONS FOR TO-DAY.

1.30.—Effingham Plate—Fleeting Love.
2. 5.—Juvenile Plate—Scotch Mixture.
3. 0.—Derby Stakes—Gouvernant.
3.31.—Caterham Plate—Views Jeu.
4.10.—Rammore Plate—Blue Diamord.
4.55.—Epoom Town Plate—Best Light.

SPECIAL SELECTION.

GOUVERNANT

GREY FRIARS. THE TWO BEST THINGS.

"The Squire," in sending his usual double to the Duly Mirror, says:—

"For to-day's race it would not profit many people to back my choice for the Blue Riband.' In endeavouring to find a good double, I shall choose the following:
"1.30-Edingham Plate—VIDAME.
"3.35.—Caterham Plate—GOLDEN GLEAM."

RACING RETURNS.

EPSOM.

Sir. V. Trimmer's LAUKLER, Syrs, 6st 710 (car 6st 1010)

Rir. J. Miller's SANTA GLALS, Syrs, 7st 310 (car 7st 6ib).

Mr. P. H. Henning's Brize Patch, 4yrs, 8st 31b Madden 5

Mr. Edmund Laub's Brize Patch, 4yrs, 8st 31b ... H. Johnson 6

Mr. F. Bibby, Patn Bis, 4yrs, 7st, 31b ... J. H. Martin Office of the Company of the

Mr. A. W. Merry's o by St. Sect. dam by Kapabury—Landlady, 9t.

L the second and third; the Fuji Kama Rill The Journal 2,40.—NORBHEN FLATE; [Handicap) of 500 sovs. The Darby Course, about one mile and a half.
Capit. Both Course, about one mile and a half with the Capit. Both Course Coon. Wild Miles.
Miles. The Capit. Both Course Coon. Wild Miles.
Miles. The Hallick's SUN BONNET, agod, 88t 1119.
Randall 2

Lord Roesberr's CHOERO, by Cyltone-Gas, 948 31b
Mr. L. de Roebachid's KHAMMURAU, 64 91b Maher
His Majasty's ROSEMARKET, 94 61b. H. Jones 3
Mr. H. Baranto's Anriform, 55 12b. B. Jones 1
Mr. H. Baranto's Anriform, 55 12b. B. Jones 1
Mr. Ernest Develorie, Gallagal, 56 12b. B. Johnson 2
Res. Admirat Lambton's Polopidas, 56 12b. M. Aylin 0
Res. Admirat Lambton's Polopidas, 56 12b. M. Aylin 0
Res. Admirat Lambton's Belopidas, 56 12b. M. Aylin 0
Res. Admirat Lambton's Belopidas, 56 12b. M. Aylin 0
Lord Ribsmero's Koothaan, 64 91b. M. Halley 0
Mr. W. Base King Duncan, 65 12b. M. Madden 0
Mr. W. Base King Duncan, 65 50b. M. Madden 0
Mr. W. Base King Duncan, 70 to 1 aget Lihangibby, 100 to 12 Stonion, 10 to 1 coch khammurab, Rosemarket, or any Rosemarket van the quickest to leave the barrier, and Rosemarket van the quickest to leave the barrier, and Rosemarket van the quickest to leave the barrier, and Cocked by King Duncan, Koothaan, and Khammurab, with Liangubby and Grescelu, with Sir Hestor weinion; in:

about a quarter of a mult, when thousand the advantage, having for his nearest attendants Standen. Know the advantage, having for his nearest attendants Standen. Now the remainder, Whun Hitle more than a furfour tree home standen was in difficulties, and Khammursh and Cicro closing with Rosemarket the two lought out an interesting down, and winning a nerty race by three-custers of a length; a length and a half between the second and third. Sp. —ASHSTRAD PLATE of 200 says; miner to be slow for 200 says. Six furlongs, on the New Course.

Mr. Fenns LOVETIN, by Friats Balam—Belly Shant Mr. F. Hunt's MOST EXCELLENT, aged, 58: 1316

Lord Westbury's ERIDLE ROAD, 5gr., 8st 41h Jones
Mr. Cohen's Royal River, 6yr., 9th 7th ..., M. Cannon
Mr. Gleson a Pluder, 6yr., 9th 7th ..., M. Dillon
Mr. Gleson a Pluder, 6yr., 9th 7th ..., M. Dillon
Mr. Gleson a Pluder, 6yr., 9th 4th ..., J. H. Martin
Mr. Edwardes's Country Squire, 4yrs, 9st 4th ...

4.28.—EGMONT PLATE (Handicap) of 500 sors. Free Mr. G. Essencia's NUTWITH, by Laveno—Nuthsteh, 3.77s. 648 and 5.77s. 648 and 5.77s. 648 and 6.78s. 648 and 6

Lord Howard de Welden's Flying Footstep, 3yrs, 6st 12th
Mrs. A. Barnes's Sir Denais, 3yrs, 6st 10th
Plant Lord Howard de Watten's Ayra, 6st 101b ... Minutal's Mrs. A. Barnes's Bir Dennis, Syrs, 6st 101b ... Plant Mrs. G. Barciay's Princess Jessie, 4yrs, 6st 71b ... Barples East

Mr. A. Heath's Bastion, 5yrs, 6st 9lb A. Sharples O. Mr. A. & Clenc's Lady Falsestep, 5yrs, 6st 4lb Stockton O. Blast James Mr. A. & Clenc's Lady Falsestep, 5yrs, 6st 4lb Stockton O. Blast James O. Moliner trained by Major Edwards James O. Blast James J. & Charles J. & Charles

6 u Barratu random Coron dand third and coron danger of the Coron

Mr. A. L. Duncan's Extradition, Jyrs, 8st 11b (7st ex) Mr. G. Edwarder's Aspenniaie, Syrs, 7et 151b E. Wheatley Sir S. Lockhart's Donnetts, 4yrs, 7st 41b Javis Lord Dunraen's Tamasha, Syrs, 6st 151b Griggs Duke of Devonshire's c by Campan—Red Wing II., Syrs, 6st 24b

6st. 24b [Winner trained by Armstrong.] Saxby 0 Betting 11 to 4 aget Fitradition, 5 to 1 each Nobless and the Sed Youg Iroob., to 1 Absorbate 100 to 14 each 100 for 1

POINTERS FROM THE BOOK.

To those who depend on book form the under-nentioned selections should be worth following:neationed selections should be worth following ...

1.30.—Effingham Plate—Energetic.

2. 5.—Juvenile Plate—Departure gelding.

3. 0.—Derby Stakes—Gouvernant.

3.35.—Caterham Plate—Golden Gleam,

4.10.—Rammore Plate—Blue Diamond.

4.45.—Epsom Town Plate—Stream of Gold filly.

SCEPTRE FOR EPSOM.

Sceptre is a certain runner for the Coronation Cup on Thursday at Epsom, and will leave her training quaters this morning. With Rock Sand and Zinfandel as opponents, the race will be productive of a lot of excitement.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME.

Wapentake or Polities. Sporting Works—Cathers and Challedon Colon. PREVIOUS FORM.

Lacinda of 100n. PREVIOUS FORM.

AUSTRALIAN STAR (9st 110) was consist, and LUCINNA (17st 81) was seen, and LUCINNA (17st 91) was a month of the constant o

(FOR PROBABLE STARTERS AND JOCKEYS SEE "GREY FRIARS" NOTES.)

PAPER SELECTIONS—Cillion's Guide—Henry the Fice Sporting Luck—John o Gaunt. Diamond Sporting Luck—John o Gaunt. Diamond Sporting Guide Gouvernant and Henry the First. Sporting World—Gouver ant. Jockoy—Gouvernant. Gale's Special—Henry the First or John of Gaunt. Feeld—John o Gaunt. Could inchryan (iki 50b, with Topfary (68: 20b) third, and eight others behind. 5 true. ANDUVER ran in our races last easans, winning once, was placed once, and unpiked the Saxon, winning once, was placed once, and unpiked the GOUVER.NAT (98: 20b) easily won the French Tree Thousand Guiness this year from Annianto (94: 20b, Loriot Age, the French Decly winner, and Cafts in a trial.

LANCASHIRES (78: 411b) was fourth to Falcon (Feb. Perk Vecent). In a for, LANCASHIRES an in six races in 1905, winning once, being placed on four occasion, and unpiked once.

GAUNT (94) and ST. AMANT (94) in the Newmarket Stakes. Airio (94) and the AMANT (94) in the Newmarket Stakes. Airio (94) and the AMANT (94) in the Newmarket Stakes. Airio (94) and ST. AMANT (94) in the Newmarket Stakes. Airio (94) and ST. AMANT (95) in the Newmarket Stakes. Airio (94) and ST. AMANT (95) in the Stakes. Airio (94) and HENKY THE FIRST (94) in the Guiness. LANCASHILLE (94) and ST. AMANT won easily from JOHN O' GAUNT (94) and HENKY THE FIRST (94) in the Guiness. LANCASHILLE (94) and ST. DENIS has not yet run in public, but was recently beaten in a trial by Bacheber Button.

ST. DENIS has not yet run in public, but was recently beaten in a trial by Bacheber Button.

(84: 120), and St. Day (84: 120) at Kempton Fark in May. im. 2 tur.

3.35—CATERHAM PLATE of 200 sovs. Five furious, at 16 O D. CATERHAM PLATE of 200 core. Fire furious, Mr. W. M. G. Singer's o by Florizsi II.—Grad Dame in Mr. Edimand Lamb's g by Tasporley-Strawberry Hull of the Comment of the Marie of the Marie of the Marie of the Comment of the Comme

JUNE 1, 1904.		-	-
The transferred and the formation of the	1	Ha.
Lord Farquhar's g by Martagon-Asteria	9	0	Į,
Mr. Edmund Lamb's Cosette	9	ő	S
	9	Ö
Mr. S. Flatt's St. Dazare	9	0
Mr. A. Thol Thorne's Bonnie Earl		2300	g
Lapsa	9	0	邏
Lord Hichester's c by Gallinule-La Joie Darling	9	O
	8	11
	8	11
Mr. S. Darling's Scotch Witch Owner		11	ä
Mr. S. Darling's Scotch Witch	8	îî	ě.
Mr. Fairie's Endymion (3lb)Beatty	8	îî	8
Sir M. FitzGerald's Sarah Jane R. Sherwood Captain Forester's g by 4slington-Miss Hoyden (3lb)	Sec	733
Fallon	8	11
Mr. C. J. Gibson's f by Perigord-Carburet Private	8	11
Mr J. Gubbins's The Dhaw	8	115	ı
Sir R. Waldie Griffith's c by Isinglass-Landrail (31b)		10.00	8
	8.	11	ä
Mr. R. H. Henning's La Belle Laide Brewer	8	11	B
Lord Howard de Walden's f by Lesterlin-Black	.0	11
Witch Carlot Beauty	0	ii
Mr. L. W. Humby's Guy Middleton (51b) Lussell	- 8	11	B
Sir I Miller's Etni Blackwell	8	11	ä
Wiech Humby's Guy Middleton (31b) Russell Mr. T. E. Liddlard's Big Gun (51b)	1	100	×
		11	8
Mr. A. Stedall's Amychen		11	ij,
Lord Carnarvon's Jongleuse (31b)Greusil	. 8	8	ď.
Duke of Devonshire's Commune (51b)Goodwin	8	8	12
Duke of Devonshire's f by Royal Hampton-Claque	8	8	2
(3lb)	0	0
R. Sherwood	8	8	F
Mr. D. E. Higham's Fosalda (3lb)	8	8
Sir J. Miller's Munera (31b)	8	8
Sir J. Miller's Munera (3lb)	8	8	Н
Mr. A. Stedall's Sweet Cloyer (3lb) Sadler, jun.	8	8	В
PAPER SELECTIONS Chilton's Guide-Golden	Gle	am.	Н
Sporting Luck-Golden Gleam Diamond Special-	Gol	den	H
Gleam. Racing Specialist-Golden Gleam. Racing	We	orld	E
Golden Gleam or Vieux Jeu. Sporting World-	Sol	den	В
Gleam. Racing Specialist—Golden Gleam. Racing Golden Gleam or Vieux Jeu. Sporting World— Gleam. Jockey—Whistling Rufus. Gale's pecial-	-21	ster	I
Lilia. PREVIOUS FORM.			1
		17000	I
ANGELICO ran unplaced in his last three race	50	At	I
Liverpool in March won by a length and a half, und 7lb, from Tyntesfield (8st 7lb), with Tendril (8st 4lb)	er	ost	b
710, from Tyntesneid (8st 710); with Tendril (8st 410)	th	ud.	r for. COSETTE (8st 41b was beaten four lengths by Poste trite (9st 51b) at Doncaster last month. Tremezzo (9st b) was thrid and last.

POLITELY (8st 91b) was seventh to Amitic (9st), Grace (3st 91b) at Newmarket in and the state of t tell, where he won the match.

The property of the property of

LATEST BETTING.

7 to 4 aget Gouvernat (1; and o).
4 aget Gouvernat (1; and o).
4 - 1 - 8. Amad h 1; and o).
11 - 2 - John o' Gaunt (b).
0 - 8 - Andover, t. and o).
0 - 1 - any other (o).

THE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

The Amateur Event Commenced in Wet Weather at Sandwich.

AMERICANS SUCCESSFUL.

ne of the most noteworthly features of the first round for success of the American players, who were being sid for the first time firstle premier British anateur competition. The most surprising ny country Club S.A.), who was runner-up to W. J. Travis in last year's rican championship. Byers defeated Mr. C. E. Dick, of the leading Hoylake players, and a Scottish International Competition of the surprising the players, and a Scottish International Competition of the Competition of the other United States player who competed in d-Mr. F. O. Horstman-lost to Mr. R. W.

by 3 and 3.

The only other United States player who competed in the first round—Mr. E. O. Horstman—lost to Mr. R. W. Orr, of Preswick by the way, have introduced a new method of playing stymies. They hit the ball, which blocks the line, very hard, and make it; jump over the hole. Their own ball loses velocity with the impact; and so well do the Americans play the shot that they more Mr. Robert Maxwell, the holder of the championship, had a narrow shave in his match with Matthews. The latter, after standing 3 down at the seventh, won the next three holes. Maxwell was not driving well, and, and won the lost of the seventh which was halved; but Matthews missed his drive to the second, and was beaten. Graham, jumior, played the best goff of the round in his match with Mr. Leslie Balfour-Melville, Graham is sout in 32, and was 3 under 4s up to the twelfth, where he won the match.

Appended are the results of the first bround; against Mr. C. S. Everard, a North Beywick and Oxford player, who was beaten by 2 holes.

FIRST ROUND.

thinson. (Boyal Justine Mr. C. A. Palmer (Handsworth) beat Mr. W. Mr. C. A. Palmer (Handsworth) beat Mr. W. Elieb by 3 and 2.
Mr. H. M. Byers (Alleghany Country, U.S.A.) beat Mr. Z. E. Dick (Royal Liverpole) by 2 and 1.
Mr. A. S. A. Peto (Royal Sr. George's) beat Mr. C. Bell (Royal North Devon) by 1 up.

SECOND ROUND.

SECOND ROUND.

Some extremely interesting results were seen in the second round, the victories of the present champion, Mr. Robert Maxwell against Captain Frideaux Brune and the ex-champion, Mr. J. E. Laidley, over the long-driving Oxonian, Mr. H. W. Beveridge, being notethiving Oxonian, Mr. H. W. Beveridge, being noteworthy features.

The old Cambridge-captain, Mr. B. Darwin, the Iris Hampion, Mr. H. A. Boyd, and yet another famous longriver in Mr. Edward Blackwell, by simulate strings of the distinctly representative character.
Mr. H. A. Boyd beat Mr. W. B. Colbeck by 4 and 3.
Mr. B. Darwin beat Dr. Sparckman by 5 and 3.
Mr. B. Darwin beat Mr. A. Reitfell by 3 and 3.
Mr. B. G. Halackwell beat Mr. A. Lammridy 3 and 3.
Mr. B. G. Halackwell beat Mr. A. Lammridy 3 and 3.
Mr. W. A. Hauderson beat Mr. V. Reitfell by 3 and 3.
Mr. D. Emmer beat Mr. Gibert Elliot by 1 hole.

Mr. H. M. Cătines teat Mr. R. E. Mydeton by 2 and 1. Mr. W. E. Fariffo Best the Hon. D. Scott by 6 and 4. Mr. R. H. Mitchell beat Mr. H. F. Kerr by 6 and 4. Mr. R. H. Mitchell beat Mr. H. F. Kerr by 6 and 4. Mr. W. M. Manhy by 2 and 1. Mr. R. G. Murray beat Mr. W. V. Manhy by 2 and 1. Mr. E. G. Murray beat Mr. W. V. Serrige by 2 up. Mr. C. Crawford Hutchison beat Mr. E. Beriffec by 2 up. Mr. E. Crawford Hutchison beat Mr. F. Moller by 1 up. Mr. Bishop beat Mr. Low at 19th hole after a tie. Mr. Kaye Beat, Mr. Cott by 2 up. 3. Mr. Maxwell beat Capt. Brune by 6 and 5. Mr. Maxwell beat Capt. Brune by 6 and 2. Mr. Maxwell beat Capt. Brune by 6 and 5. Mr. Pollock beat Mr. Whitworth Mitton by 2 and 1. Mr. Harris beat Ar. C. A. Hutchison by 6 and 5. Mr. Pollock beat Mr. Whitsont by 3 and 2. Mr. Paton beat Mr. C. Kerr by 2 and 1. Mr. Hartisions beat Mr. Fergusson by 6 and 5. Mr. Reade beat Mr. Blyth by 1 up. Mr. Travis, beat Mr. Rohb by 1 up. Mr. Hutchison, beat Mr. Selner by 5 and 4. Mr. Hillion beat Mr. Lassen by 5 and 4. Mr. Hillion beat Mr. Rohb by 1 up. Mr. Fowler beat Mr. Robbs by 1 and 2. Mr. Hillion beat Mr. Lassen by 5 and 4. Mr. Hillions beat Mr. Peto by 4 and 2. Mr. Hillions beat Mr. Peto by 4 and 2. Mr. Hillions beat Mr. Peto by 4 and 2. Mr. Byter beat Mr. Peto by 4 and 2. Mr. Byter beat Mr. Peto by 4 and 2. Mr. Byter beat Mr. Peto by 4 and 2. Mr. Byter beat Mr. Peto by 4 and 2. Mr. Byter beat Mr. Peto by 4 and 2. Mr. Byter by 5 and 4. Mr. Byter by 5 a

RAIN VERSUS CRICKET.

Cricket was at a standstill yesterday, it being impossible to resume play in any of the matches. Rain fell heavily in London, while at Sheffield and Leicester thunderstorms raged through the night, followed by heavy rains. The grounds at Leicester and Sheffield were practically under water.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE SPORTS.

In spie of the downour, the University College Haspital Sports were healtened to Stanford Bridge Grounds, resulting as follows:

Half-mile Scratch Race.—S. Imray, 1; L. M. Stuart, 2; S. H. Wood, 3. Time, 2min. 11 #5sec.

Putting the Weight.—H. C. Fletches, 2881 im, 1; C. Petting the Weight.—H. C. Fletches, 2881 im, 1; C. Petting the Weight.—H. C. Fletches, 2881 im, 1; C. Time, 00 *3-5cc.

Time, 00 *3-5cc.

Time, 00 *3-5cc.

Time, 2 * Time, 5 * Time, 1; K. S. Dandop, 2; H. W. H. Stokes, 2; Time, 5 * Ti

LATEST SCRATCHINGS.

DERBY STAKES, Epsom.—Mousqueion (at 10.35 a.m., fonday) and Landing Net (at 9 a.m., Tuesday).

ROYAL STAKES, Epsom.—Cameway.

Coronation Cong. Epsom.—Foffer.

In the Congruence of the Congruen

All Engagements.—Phoebus and Shadow Dance II. GRAND PRIX DE PARIS this year.—King Cole.

SPORTING NEWS ITEMS.

On the opening day at Epsom last year there were 73 runners; yesterday there were 83.

Cox, the International left-winger of the Liverpool F.C., who failed on Monday to satisfy the Football Association Council and the state of the Transferring his pool in London yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Arthur James's Derby coll, Jupiter Pluvius, was at Newmarket yesterday given a capital gallop of two miles, being accompanied by Flor di Cuba Stephanus. H. Jones will have the mount on the son of St. Simon —Andromeda should it he decided to start him to-day.

At Newmarket vyeterday Blackwell stripped Chanter

CURIOUS DREYFUS SEQUEL.

Officer Arrested in the Act of Falsifying Books.

The report is confirmed that an officer named Dautriche, employed in departmental work, has been incarcerated at Mont Valerien under startling

Maitre Atthalin, Councillor at the Court of Cas-Maitre Atthalin, Councillor at the Court of Cassation, who is entrusted with the examination of the Dreyfas appeal, formed the opinion that the false evidence of M. Czenuschi had been engineered at the Ministry of War, and asked for all the accounts of the Intelligence Department.

The officers were requested by the Minister of War to place their keys in all the drawers before leaving. Dautriche alone lingered behind in the office, and was discovered by M. Attfalin in the act of making erasures and alterations in the account books.

count books.

This officer, in a state of great confusion, de-clared that, having been heard as a witness by the Court of Cassation, he was bringing his books into harmony with his evidence.—Reuter.

ALAKE AT THE ROYAL MEWS.

The Alake yesterday was taken round the King's stables by Sir Henry Ewart.

He saw the historic "creams," who stand in stately idleness, and only go out, except for exercise, when the King opens Parliament. He admired the magnificent blacks used by the King in attending levees, and saw the thirty or more Cleveland bays that do the ordinary carriage work of the royal household.

or the royal household:

What perhaps impressed him most were—the harness rooms and coachhouses. The magnificent trappings in their glass cases, all burnished bright as mirrors, appealed to his barbaric sease of spleaduin, while the state carriages were a dream of delight.

PARTNERSHIPS AND FINANCIAL.

Page 15.

A. A. How Money Makes Money. Post free to all mentioning this paper. Will clearly show anybody with the state of the state INVENTOR wants Gentleman of capital to assist completing motor road ears.—Write 1414, "Baily Mirror," Carmelite-st. E.C.

TNVESTMENT, with Occupation.—Required, an energetic I Man, capable of introducing £250 and taking the out-door travelling and collecting accounts; proprietory patent momopoly;—minimum clear remuneration £250 per annua. Write Practical, 1413, "Daily Mirror, 2, Carantum, Write Practical, 1413," "Daily Mirror, 2, Carantum, LOANS.-£25 and upwards; repayable monthly, by post, -Apply Gould, Bishopsgate, Guildford. DARTNER wanted, sleeping or otherwise, in high-class manufacturing business; £5,000 per annum assured at once, with early prospects of very large income, half-share for £5,000, particulars to principals only,—Write 1415, "Daily Mirror.", 2. Carmelitest, £.C.

C5 TO £1,000 Advanced to householders and others on approven note of hand; no sureties required; trade bills discounted on shortest notice; strictly private and confidential—Before borrowing ellewhere write or call on the continuous continuou

EDUCATIONAL.

CHATHAM HOUSE COLLEGE, Ramugate.—Founded 94
Arms, — High-class school for the sons of gentlement.
Arms, professions, and commercial life; catel corps attached to the 1st V.B.K.R., "The Buff 1; junior school for boys under the Bendmatter and properties sens as application to the Bendmatter harded properties sens as application to the Bendmatter and the School for boys, 4 to 12 years.—Apply to 92, King'erd, Kingston-on-Tilarnes.

STAMMERING, Lisping.—Former sufferer desires pupils.—Letters, Speech, 8, Birchin-lane, London.

VOCALISTS, Planists.—Well-known Professor receives few amateurs as Free Pupils for professional training: par-ticulars post free.—85, St. Paul's-rd, Highbury.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

DORD'S Planos.—25 per cent., discount for cash, or cash or cas

PIANO by Boyd; walnut case; trichord; bargain for cash; 10 guineas; Terms arranged. -33, Calabria ed;

VIOLIN; Valuable; marvellous tone; labelled Stradi-varius Cremona, 1690 sacrifice, 18s. 6d.; approval willingly.—Mrs. Tyler, Rockingham-rd, Uxbridge.

PETS, LIVE STOCK, AND VEHICLES.

L OVELY pet Cavary; heautifully time, comes use of cage; has sweet flute, nightingails woodlark and water-bubble notes; 12s. 6d; send sadely. Miss M., The Gobies, Olaxion, Notwich.

YORKSHIRE Terrier; champion pedigree; perfectly strated; Property of the company of the capacity of the MOTORS AND CYCLES.

FOR Sale, gent's cycle; unsoiled; free-wheel, 2 brakes, plated rims, Dunlop tyres; small figure wanted.—Appus evening, Charles, 5, Smith-st, Camberwell.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A BEAUTIFUL Singer you can positively become possessing my secrets; wonderful scientific discusses guaranteed; write free book immediate 1249, "Baily Mirror," 45, New Bondesk, W.

A CHINCEN-BATCHING MARVEEL For 2a: 6d. the ACHINCEN-BATCHING MARVEEL For 2a: 6d. the Incubiors. The Action of the

A LADY would be glad to hear of a business firm, who would sell smart French hats on commission, M. C. 39, Warwick-st, Kensington.

A RE YOUR SHIRTS AND COLLARS WELL DRESSED! A If not, post them to Thompson's Model Laundry, Mar-gravino-rd, Hammersmith.

CONSULT Mille. Beatrice, the highly-recommended Society Palmist and Clairvoyant, at 105, Regent st. hours, 11 to 7, COURT Dressmaker; highly recommended; French experience; perfect skyle, fit; exquisite work; prices exceptionally advantageous; modes.—Write 1377, "Daily Mirror," 2, Carmelitest, E.G.

MARVEL Eyelash Oil; only Is.—Mrs. Seymour, 124, New

191 Bonder, Arman vol; only 18.—Mrs. Seymour, 124, New MonSieure, Francolis' Mustachine Elisir; routils marvellous; 14 stamps.—13, little Grossonores, W. OLD Artificial Teeth bought; call or forward by post; full value per return, or ofter made. Mears. M. Browning, Manufacturing Dentists, 135, Oxfordes, London (Estats; 103 years).

100 rears).

ED NOSES, BLACKHEADS. ACNE.—The only rene'y
E is Clarine, and is always successful; privately packed;
2. 9d. post free—Madame Epatom, 4d, York-mansions, Chichelevd, Cricklewood, N.W.

EPLATE your Biegels Handle: Herberts' Plating Solation, is, 5d.; our Gem Bicycle Replating Outfit, 2s. 5d.
complete, duce splendid, worth—Hobberts, Plating, Spacet.

complete, does spiendid works-Hurberts, Plafting Depactment, Urmisol Permanentilly Cured; use Porter's Specific II for child, youth, saludt, its 3d. and 2a, 9d, buttle, post for child, youth, saludt, its 3d. and 2a, 9d, buttle, post for the present success, and the present success, and the present success, offsetive where all other treatment, has failed; write to-dig, for illustrated Catalogna, free—Colwell 116, Newington-enusermy, London, 8.B. SHORT Stories revised and placed groundity—Auchor, 4a Cambridge-tib Batterns Fairs.

SHORT: Stories revised and placed promptly—Sachor, t. Cambridge—Bathers Practical—Write Sugar House Committee of the Committe

Other Small Advertisements on pages 2, 6, and 12

ORNER'S WEEK

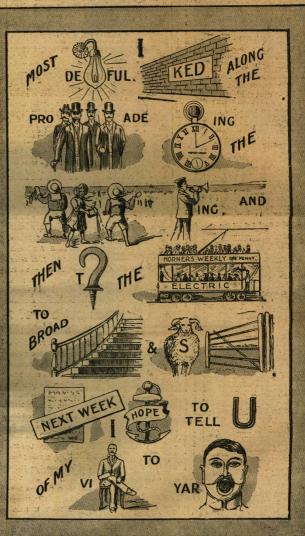

No. I READY TO-DAY, WEDNESDAY.

The Great New Home Journal.

No. I READY TO-DAY. WEDNESDAY.

CAN YOU READ THIS?

A NOVEL SUMMER HOLIDAY STORY IN PICTURES AND WORDS.

If you can read the above picture £500 HOUSE PRIZE (or Cash).

The offer and full particulars appear in No. I. of HORNER'S WEEKLY, which is on sale everywhere to-day, WEDNESDAY. HORNER'S WEEKLY is the best penny home paper now published, and is full of splendid pictures, stories, and articles. You should not miss the first number of this new home journal. One of its chief features will be a pension scheme of ten shillings a week to widows of readers killed in accidents of all kinds. Buy No. I. and read all about this scheme.

NO. 13 NOW READY. HORNER'S

LOOK OUT FOR THE BEAUTIFUL PRESENTATION PLATE.